'Definite' Lake Park Plans Outlined by State Director

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Development of Horseshoe Lake into a state park, definitely on its way, Dan Malkovich, acting director of the State Department of Conservation, assured Quad-Cityans at a conference here Wednesday morning.

He confirmed that acquisition of property will begin in September and that preliminary work on engineering studies will begin this fall.

He added that Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus experts are assisting in the master plan.

The conference followed an aerial survey of the lake made by the department director, accompanied by Henry D. Karandjeff, chairman of the Horseshoe Lake Area Study Commission, and by a Press-Record reporter.

Joining in the study held in the Lakeside airport building were C. H. Sheppard, a member of the Commission and president of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, consulting engineers, and Jerry R. Van Meter, chief systems planning and research for the department.

Malkovich concluded that water quality and water depths are the main problems.

Eight-Foot Depth
The development will require a major drainage project in at least 75% of the 2000-acre lakebed to provide a minimum depth of at least eight feet.

That depth is required to permit fish to survive during winter freezes, he said. The depth now averages 3.8 feet.

"It is not insurmountable," he added with confidence. "It is a hellish program and somewhat expensive." But Van Meter agreed that "you can see the opportunities and challenges."

After studying slitting charts of the lakebed and hearing drainage cost estimates provided by Sheppard on other projects, Malkovich guessed that the dredging cost could exceed $3 million.

Sheppard suggested that the cost could be reduced by deepening only part of the lake, but Malkovich said a minimum of 75% would be required.

Seek Federal Funds
Karandjeff noted that federal funds are available from more than one source, and Malkovich said he is trying to involve a couple of federal agencies in the project.

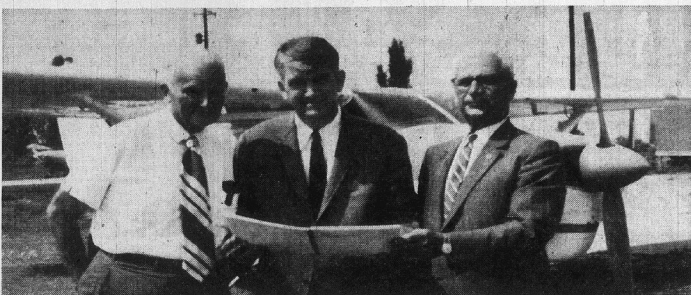

The planned massive hillside drainage project was discussed, and Malkovich, who later in the day conferred with U. S. Army Corps of Engineers on that project, said hillside drainage would no longer be in the lake. "If so, you may as well write it off," he said.

However, he commented that the hillside canal would help solve the silting problem here and elsewhere.

Citing the need to maintain proper depth in the lake, he suggested after a study of charts that the current level of the lake could be raised by a foot.

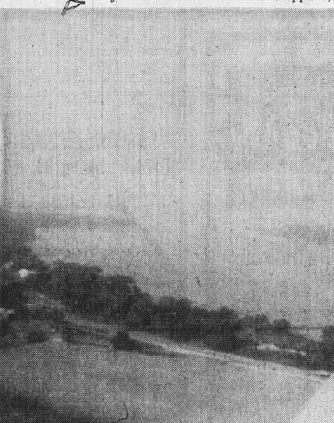

Sheppard informed Malkovich that basically the lake is fed by surface water, largely by drainage.

Educational Autonomy For SIU-SW Is Proposed

A major restructuring of Southern Illinois University with emphasis on educational independence for its two campuses was recommended by a professional management firm yesterday.

The report by Cresap, McCormick and Paget, Inc., management consultants was accepted for consideration by SIU's board of trustees meeting at Carbondale.

The long-awaited report, commissioned by the trustees, calls for decentralization of the SIU President's Office and redistribution of administrative functions under a strong four-man structure.

A "System President" who would be concerned largely with system-wide administrative matters, development and organization, and reporting directly to the board.

A "System Vice President" responsible for administering those SIU operations that would remain central for both campuses.

Chancellors responsible for the affairs of their respective Carbondale and Southwestern campuses, with direct access to the board through the system president.

Policy Role of Board
Under the plan, the board of trustees would assume clear-cut responsibilities for governance and policymaking, with administration just as clearly marked as the system president's and chancellors' roles.

Two advisory councils and a professional staff would reinforce the trustees in the "far-reaching organizational changes" recommended by the firm.

Councils of students and faculty members with equal representation from each campus would sit with the trustees at meetings. They would have open advisory channels to the board and agenda time on request, but no formal voting status.

The effect would be a "two-way street" between the board, students and faculty.

Directly under the board but outside the regular university line organization would be a "Board Chief of Staff" with his own financial officer, academic program officer and legal counsel.

One of the bills creates the agency to construct and operate the airport, while the companion bill gives the authority the power to condemn land for the new airport as an alternative to purchase by negotiation.

The bill creating the authority also provides $1.5 million for preliminary studies.

7-man Authority
State Sen. Merrill Olweine (R, Edwardsville) and State Rep. Ed Lehman (R, East St. Louis), principal sponsors of the bill, said the authority would be on hand for the signing ceremony in the governor's office at Springfield.

Others attending included representatives of airlines now serving St. Louis and representatives of the Regional Industrial Development Corporation.

Gov. Ogilvie said he expects to name the five Illinois members of the authority soon. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervantes will name two additional members of the authority when an agreement is completed between the state and the city and the contract is approved by the St. Louis Board of Aldermen.

Later, when both Lambert Field and the new airport are in operation, three more Missourians will join the board, increasing its membership to ten.

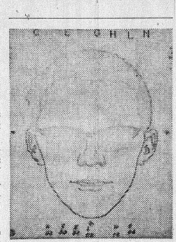

In signing the bills, the governor said, "It would be difficult to overstate the promise which this facility holds for the great St. Louis area."

"It can create thousands of new jobs, attract commercial activity, provide convenience for millions of travelers and serve as the foundation for economic progress in the entire region for years to come."

In addition, it will guarantee St. Louis' well-earned reputation as one of the great transportation centers of the nation. What we have done today

City, Citizens Investigating Madison Fees

SUSPECT in armed robbery of Illinois Power Co. Tuesday. He is described as 30 to 35 years old, 5 feet 11 inches to 6 feet tall, with dark brown hair and wearing a yellow knit shirt and dark trousers.

Gunman Flees With Cash from Ill. Power Co.
A lone gunman held two tellers at gunpoint at the Illinois Power Co. office, Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues, at 1:20 p.m. Tuesday, demanding money.

The armed robber was described in his early 30's with brown hair, weighing about 175 pounds and five feet, 11 inches or six feet tall. He wore a yellow knit shirt, gold-brown colored trousers and sunglasses.

Entering the office alone, the man approached Mrs. Dorothy Helton, a cashier, by walking behind a counter to her desk. Pointing a dark blue automatic weapon at the woman, he said, "Give me the money."

The gunman then reached across the woman, taking a cash drawer from the desk, and stressed, "I am not kidding, lady." He went over to the desk of another cashier, Mrs. Hollie Hoelscher, and said, "I want yours, too."

Demands More Money
When Mrs. Hoelscher handed the man the tray from her desk, the robber, apparently still not satisfied, said, "I want the rest of it." The cashier told him, "That's all there is."

Still pointing the weapon, the man turned to Fred Cunningham, office supervisor, ordering him to put down a telephone he was holding.

As the gunman walked to the front door of the office along a center aisle containing display lamps, he passed by Mrs. Eleanor Null at the sales and information desk and warned her, "Don't pick up that phone."

Witnesses at the scene said the robber entered a white 1962 or 1963 station wagon, driven by a second man, which proceeded south on Delmar to 19th street.

Multiple Inquiries Ordered as Election Of Mayor Approaches

Election of the next mayor of Madison, now less than three weeks away, was thrust into the background for the first hour of Tuesday night's city council session as yearly budgeting and other duties were carried out.

Then, for the remaining 45 minutes of the bi-weekly public meeting, politics moved to the center of the stage. Smiles and gentlemanly manners were displayed but allegations and investigations sprouted in several directions, each with a potential impact on the mayor campaign.

To look into industrial property sale commissions, landfill transactions, vending machine supervision — and presumably other subjects which might arise — Acting Mayor Raymond Kozielek asked the council's Public Grounds and Building Committee to work jointly with Gerold Moss and Leo Abel.

The committee, headed by Alderman Mike Silvers, includes Aldermen Stanley Krakowicki and Christ Costoff. Moss, as a taxpayer, is seeking return of realty fees to the city treasury.

Candidates for mayor are John Moore, Kozielek, Police Board President Mike Sayk and Mrs. Austin Lewis, Madison librarian.

Full Council to Participate
At the suggestion of council members, the investigative group was broadened to include five aldermen, Richard Kiser, Donald Broyles, Donald Reeves, John Haynes and Booker Walton.

All were present except Walton. The group indicated it would set to work immediately. Kozielek and City Clerk John Belloff voiced willingness to produce any city records in their possession and the acting mayor said City Comptroller E. J. Miller would do the same.

The discussion began with Mayor Kozielek and the aldermen: "It has come to my attention that the city of Madison has made payments out of the Special Revenue Fund to the Gilchoff Agency, 1927 Edison avenue, Granite City, Ill., totaling $18,650."

"The checks issued to the Gilchoff Agency indicate that these monies represent real estate commissions in connection with the sale or lease of city property."

"Illinois Statutes provide the method by which a city may sell or lease real estate by advertising for competitive bids."

Cites Lack of Ordinance
"It appears that the city of Madison has, without legal authority, and without the passage of any appropriate ordinances, paid real estate commissions to the Gilchoff Agency in connection with the sale of real estate."

"The purpose of this letter is to inform the city government of Madison that I, as a resident and taxpayer of this city, (Continued on page 9, col. 3)

Bowman Charges 2 Named To Single Position On Board

Supervisors to Pick Between Mrs. Allen, Johnson Next Week

Charges that some Madison county sheriff's deputies have collected "substantial" mileage fees from county funds for transporting nonexistent prisoners will be presented to a Madison county grand jury if an examination of documentary evidence supports the allegations, State's Attorney R. W. Griffith told the Press-Record today.

No decision to present the matter to the next session of the grand jury on July 16 has been reached, Griffith said.

Sheriff George Musso declined to comment on the charges made by Louis Bowman, Altan, Republican candidate for sheriff.

Bowman contends that certain deputies have collected large sums of money for transporting prisoners who actually didn't exist except as a name written on travel vouchers.

Innocent Persons
Bowman charged that in making travel vouchers, deputies have used the names of persons who never were arrested or involved in a crime, and that as a result the names of innocent persons now are on county records as having been arrested.

Juvenile names required by law to remain confidential have been made public records through the vouchers, he said.

In presenting the charges at a press conference Tuesday, Bowman said word of his investigation had "leaked out" and that one attempt on his life has been made.

He said some deputies have been collecting 40 cents per mile on fabricated mileage vouchers on the basis of a round trip, whereas the law allows mileage fees only for a one-way trip.

Bowman turned over to the state's attorney photostatic copies of vouchers, cancelled checks and other records and (Continued on page 4, col. 6)

2 Named To Single Position On Board

Supervisors to Pick Between Mrs. Allen, Johnson Next Week

A city council battle sparked by a series of exchanges between Mayor Donald Partney and a majority bloc of council members resulted Monday night in the appointment of two successors to the late Milton R. Allen as an assistant supervisor.

The Madison County Board of Supervisors is expected to be asked to decide which appointee to seat at its July 15 session.

The appointments, one by the mayor who claimed authority under state statutes to appoint an assistant supervisor, and the other by council members sitting as the town board, climaxed lengthy debate, differing legal opinions between township and city attorneys, and two sessions of the town board and city council.

City council members also make up the town board, but operate as a separate entity in administration of the township.

Appointed to the assistant supervisor post by Mayor Partney was Mrs. Milton Allen, wife of the late supervisor Mr. Allen, who had served 12 years as an assistant supervisor prior to his re-election to a fourth term in 1969, died of an apparent heart attack June 22.

A majority of city council members, convened in a town board session which he contended was the only legal basis for making the appointment,

Recommended for promotion of four city firemen were approved by the council. The acts advanced the rank of the rank of captain. At the same time, William Hodge, 1832 Clark avenue, and Arthur Marum, 1423 West Pontoon road, were promoted from pipeman to engineers.

All of the appointments were made effective July 1.

Ogilvie Signs Airport Bill, Foresees Big Economic Gain

Two Illinois legislative bills clearing the way for development of a new major airport in the Illinois sector of the metropolitan area—under guidance of a Metropolitan Airport Authority made up of representatives of the state of Illinois and the city of St. Louis—were signed into law Tuesday by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

One of the bills creates the agency to construct and operate the airport, while the companion bill gives the authority the power to condemn land for the new airport as an alternative to purchase by negotiation.

The bill creating the authority also provides $1.5 million for preliminary studies.

Priority System Suggested Due to Limited Gas Supply

Because of increasing demands for natural gas and limitations of supply, Illinois Power Co. on Tuesday asked the Illinois Commerce Commission to approve a system of priorities to take care of the requirements of all customers in that priority, the remaining gas will be used to supply the needs of applicants in other priorities.

Additional supplies of gas made available from storage and peak shaving facilities will be allocated only to those applicants whose usage can be supplied thereby on an economically feasible basis.

Applicants in the fourth and fifth priorities will be served only when Illinois Power's sole judgment quantities of gas are available to serve such applicants.

In such event all applicants in the fourth priority will be served on a "first come, first served" basis and any remaining gas will be used to serve fifth priority applicants on the same basis.

Impact of Pollution Drive
Wendell J. Kelley, president of IP, said that federal and state programs to control air pollution have increased the demand for natural gas to a point where it is expected to be in short supply.

In addition, he pointed out, the steady price of gas in comparison to the rising costs of other fuels, has resulted in an increased demand for natural gas as the best and cheapest fuel available.

He said that the failure of the Federal Power Commission to recognize the need for adequate exploration and development expenditures by pipeline and well-head suppliers is a definite contributing factor to the gas shortage.

Illinois Power has intervened in some of the FPC proceedings in an attempt to show the federal agency of the public need, he pointed out.

Meenen noted that one pipeline supplier has recently cut its proposed guaranteed annual flow of gas to IP by 12%.

Current Plus New Homes
Although IP has developed five underground storage fields and has installed Liquid Petroleum Gas facilities to meet peak demands, the company believes it can look ahead to meet only current requirements plus normal new residential service, in most instances, Meenen said.

- Illinois Power Co., as a distributor, draws gas from five pipeline distributors, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., Mississippi River Transmission Corp., Trunkline Gas Co. and Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co.
- It stores gas underground at Gillespie, Freeburg, Centralia, Tilden and Hookdale. It produces peak gas supplies at Jacksonville, Champaign, Moline, Danville, Kewanee and Monmouth.

Requests Rejected
"Illinois Power's requests for additional gas for the 1969-70 heating season and thereafter from its various pipeline suppliers have either been denied, not acknowledged or only partially acknowledged and Illinois Power has been unable to find any other source of additional gas," Meenen noted.

"We will be unable to continue our policy of providing service to all customers requesting service unless and until supplies are more than sufficient to service them."

Driver Faces Charges

Joseph W. Ray, 2437 Missouri avenue, was arrested Tuesday morning on charges of driving with a suspended license and leaving the scene of an accident which allegedly occurred on June 27 in the alley behind 2011 Lee avenue. He was released on cash bail pending a hearing.

Ticket Issued

A speeding ticket was issued to Paul D. Johnson, 121 Lennox avenue, Mitchell, at 2:10 a.m. Tuesday at 27th street and Madison avenue.

stantial additional quantities of gas become available to us," Meenen said.

"To serve its customers, Illinois Power has requested, at least annually, additional pipeline flow gas from one or more of its five pipeline suppliers, has developed five storage fields with a maximum daily deliverability of 134,000 Mcf, has expanded its gas transmission facilities and has installed Liquid Petroleum Gas (LPG) peak shaving facilities with total deliverability of 37,000 Mcf."

Two New Storage Fields
Meenen said Illinois Power has two new gas storage fields under development which, if successful, will help alleviate the supply problem.

In addition, he said, it is continuing exploration for additional storage sites, planning the installation of additional LPG facilities and investigating the feasibility of using Liquid Natural Gas (LNG) storage facilities.

Illinois Power has also discontinued all gas-related advertising and its annual summer door-to-door direct sales campaign, Meenen said.

Such measures can, however, only provide temporary relief, and it is expected that the supply problem will be resolved only when substantial quantities of additional gas again become available from the pipelines, he said.

The company, which provides natural gas to more than 320,000 customers in a 15,000 square-mile area of Illinois, urged that all who seek new gas service apply immediately in writing to the company's area and district offices.

HARRY NIEVELT, newly appointed to the national office of editor and public relations coordinator, National Association of Legal Investigators. He has been a legal investigator for the law offices of Chapman, Strawn, Kinder, Talbert & Chapman for the past five years.

Violin, Saxophone in Spotlight at Festival

Featured entertainers at the Mississippi River Festival at SIU-SW this weekend will be Israeli violinist Pinchas Zukerman tonight and Saturday evening and the "Cannonball" Ad-derley Quintet, highly rated jazz performers, on Friday night.

Zukerman will perform with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra on both nights in an all-Chaikovsky program beginning at 8:30. A protégé of Isaac Stern, he is making his second tour of the U. S. and Canada. Ad-derley plays the alto saxophone and his brother, Nat, is a cornetist. Their concert also will start at 8:30 p.m. Other members of the quintet are Joe Zawinul, piano; Victor Gaskin, bass; and Roy McCurdy, drums.

Leaves Cub, Collides

Upon pulling away from the curb, an auto driven by Billie P. Williams, 1531 Niedringhaus avenue, collided with the right side of a car driven by Nina Caschetta, 2223 Edwards street, at 8:20 a.m. Tuesday at Niedringhaus avenue and Iowa street.

Madison Housing Meet Deferred Until Aug. 12

After formally calling a special mayor election for July 28, the Madison city council Tuesday night postponed from July 15 to Aug. 12 a meeting at which federally aided housing improvements are to be discussed.

"The housing session is to include city officials, the Leo Daly & Associates planning-engineering firm, representatives of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, the Madison city plan commission and appointed city officers."

Alderman Broyles proposed the delay until after the mayor election. Acting Mayor Raymond Kozielec said the planners are urging more rapid progress in developing Madison housing proposals and in perfecting the city's "workable program," a prerequisite for 3-for-1 U. S. financing.

When Alderman Reeves and Krakowicki said they will be out-of-town next week, Kozielec suggested the Aug. 12 date and it was approved. The session will start at 7 p.m.

Citizen Advisory Group
The acting mayor asked that council members urge citizens to be present Aug. 12. He noted that it will be a requirement to form a citizen advisory group to serve as a link between officials, planners and the public.

Alderman Haynes commented that federal talk of 3% loans for replacement of old dwellings may be "hot air," since a willing local lender probably would have to be found.

The council set the voting hours July 28 from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Polling places will be at the city fire building, 1327 Third street, First Ward; public library, 1700 Fifth street, Second Ward; Madison memorial center, Seventh and Lee streets, Third; building at 1243 Madison avenue, Fourth; and West Madison memorial center, 900 West Washington street, Fifth Ward. Using names supplied by Alderman Reeves, Broyles, Karkowicki, Sikora and Hayes, the council designated a total of 25 election judges for the five polls.

'Upward' Applications Taken; $110,832 Grant

The U. S. Office of Education has awarded a grant of $110,832 to SIU-SW for support of the Upward Bound program. Even Davis, staff assistant, will serve as director of the Upward Bound program, located in East St. Louis.

The grant will enable 70 Madison and St. Clair county students of eleventh-grade standing, with social and economic problems, to fulfill the requirements for graduation. Davis said that unlike most other Upward Bound programs, which last for eight months, the SIU-SW program covers a one-year period.

In addition, the program involves the creation of a learning situation through environmental study and provides all tools necessary for academic pursuit.

Applications are being accepted through July 15. Interested students may contact Elven Davis at 400 North Ninth street, East St. Louis, or by telephone (271-7140).

MORE ABOUT

Two Named

named Ford Johnson, a former alderman, as Allen's successor.

Mayor Partney's appointment of Mrs. Allen during a city council session was switched to a 30-day appointment by the mayor after the council failed to concur. Partney consistently has used 30-day appointments without council concurrence as a means of countering aldermanic opposition.

Partney maintained throughout that the appointment of an assistant supervisor must be made by the city council and not the town board. He cited a state statute placing the authority of appointments with the mayor in cities and villages, and said he had learned the same procedure is followed in the case of an assistant supervisor in townships where boundaries with the city are coextensive, as is the case here.

Several council members went along with Partney's contention that the appointment was council business, but in the end voted with the town board in the town board session to appoint Johnson, whose name was placed in nomination by Alderman Emerald Dawes.

Partney said after the meeting that he would issue credentials to Mrs. Allen. The aldermen plan to issue credentials to Johnson through City Clerk Robert Stevens, who also is town clerk.

Up To County Board
Settlement of the issue is expected to be up to the county board, on which the assistant supervisor serves as a member; the post involves no duties in administering the township itself.

The clash over the appointment began immediately after the council convened in its regular town board session at 7:45 p.m. Monday. Customarily, the council meets as the town board prior to the council session and then adjourns to reconvene as the council.

As the town meeting opened, Mayor Partney, who chairs the town board meetings, called on Alderman R. E. Robertson, who usually presents town bills and reports.

Robertson "passed" to Dawes, who said, "I understand we are to appoint a successor to Mr. Allen as assistant supervisor."

Partney interrupted him.

"That is city council business," the mayor said.

Robertson protested that the appointment was a township matter. He turned to Leon Scroggins, city attorney, and asked his opinion on that issue.

Up To Town Attorney

"I think that is something your township attorney should answer," Scroggins replied.

"The township attorney never attends a meeting," Partney remarked.

Dawes, at that point, moved for the appointment of Johnson. Partney stepped down and said, "I'll have no part in this. Some- one else take over. Here," he said, pointing to Robertson.

"You take over."

The mayor said he was not actually chairman of the town board; "I'm just a member like everyone else."

Alderman Sam Whitmer told the group he had obtained a legal opinion "from a sound source" that the appointment was up to the council and not the town board.

Should Be Sure

"If I'm not the supervisor, it would be township business," Whitmer said. "But I am told that the appointment of an assistant supervisor is a council matter. I think we should hold up on this until we are sure of our legal grounds."

Robertson, meanwhile, had taken the mayor's seat and Partney sat at the council table.

Alderman Walter Nonn entered the discussion with the remark, "There's no question this is a city council matter. If we go at this the way we are going, the credentials are no good, then you've got another problem."

"If that's right," said Dawes, "then I'll withdraw my motion until the regular council session." Dawes turned to Scroggins and again asked for his opinion.

"That is up to your township attorney (William Schooley). I give you an opinion and he gives you a different one on matter then it all comes back on me later."

Wants Order
Alderman Roy Poulos called out.

"Let's quit this. If Dawes will withdraw his motion, then, Mayor, you get back up there where you belong, and Mickey (Robertson), you get back down where you belong and let's get these motions in the proper order."

Partney told Robertson to stay in the mayor's chair and preside over the rest of the town meeting.

Robertson remained there and called for the finance report

(bills and reports). He is chairman of the finance committee and customarily submits these reports. Robertson looked at Partney.

"I'm not the finance chairman, either," the mayor said.

Robertson changed places with the mayor and presented the town bills. The town board meeting then was adjourned and the council session was convened by the mayor.

Town Attorney Arrives
After Stevens had presented and councilmen had haggled with the mayor over appointments of two women police dispatchers, Attorney Schooley arrived.

Alderman Clyde Boyd, absent at the opening of the meeting, also had arrived.

Schooley's arrival coincided with announcement by the mayor of his appointment of Mrs. Allen as assistant supervisor.

Boyd, who had been conferred with several aldermen about earlier actions, pointed out that the town attorney had arrived. He moved to adjourn the council session and reconvene at the town board.

On a motion by Boyd, Schooley was given permission to speak. "There is no question of this appointment being a town matter," he said. "The law gives the power to the town board of auditors."

"It requires the fact that it may have been done differently in the past, but under present laws the only way it can be done is by the authority of the town board."

Reinstates Motion
Dawes reinstated his motion to appoint Johnson.

Alderman Earl Jarrett moved for the appointment of Mrs. Allen, and Alderman Charles Moerlein moved that nominations be closed.

This led to a long debate over two conflicting motions being on the floor at the same time.

Whitmer said, "Both of these people told me today that they did not want this situation to create a lot of confusion and involve them in a council hassle. And here we are, right in the middle of one."

Partney read his legal opinion, which he said gives his office the authority to make the appointment as a matter of council business. The alderman called for a vote on the motion to appoint Johnson.

Partney cast the motion with Partney and Jarrett casting the only dissenting votes.

The aldermen adjourned the town board and reconvened as the city council.

Appoints Mrs. Allen
Partney announced he was appointing Mrs. Allen to succeed her late husband as assistant supervisor. Over council objections, the mayor said he was making the appointment on a 30-day basis, similar to other appointments he has made when unable to gain council approval for indefinite terms.

Alderman Steve Barschik next moved to repeal the mayor's appointment.

Partney declared the motion out of order and remarked, "That's the kind of dilatory motion a third-rate drop-out would make."

Barschik jumped to his feet. "Are you calling me a third-rate drop out?" he asked.

"If that's the way you want to take it," the mayor responded.

ability of the chancellor's responsibility for all matters concerning Cardinale, or concerning the president's responsibility for the system as a whole.

To make the board of trustees more representative, the report urged that its membership be boosted from seven to nine, plus—as now—the state superintendent of public instruction as an "ex officio" representative.

It also asks that the board's membership be expanded to cover more of the state and more occupational categories. The report says SIU's massive growth over the past two decades has created problems which may be the "measure of its success."

The need to consolidate 20 years of growth and plan a future based on "optimum use of resources," it said, is "a natural outgrowth of the process."

Inadequate Procedures

Management practices and administrative organization based on where SIU was 12 or 15 years ago are inadequate now, the report says.

According to the consultants, SIU's 6-year-old statutes make the board unduly dependent on the president, transferring to him decisions that should be made by the trustees.

The firm called for an immediate revision of university statutes and board by-laws, spelling out governing policies of the SIU system. Policy statements should be codified and called "governing practices," it recommended.

Some central functions now under the president's office and others under the board, now under a vice-president, would be placed with the campus chancellors.

Only those functions serving the entire SIU System would be retained under the central administration. Included would be planning, broadcasting services, the Air Institute and Service, University Press, SIU Foundation, offices such as the treasurer, architect and auditor, and various special projects like field research stations.

Bottlenecks, Logjams

The large size of the present central administration results in bottlenecks and logjams on many matters, it said.

Development of both the Carbondale and Southern campus is being hampered by the "smothering effects of overcentralization," the report claims.

It cites great differences between the two in area service, student residence, and his- torical tradition.

While the system president loses some authority to the trustees and some to the chancellors, the report says its recommendations will free him of routine duties and give him the opportunity to "provide full-time leadership to the SIU System as a vital, functioning educational community, an entity greater than the sum of its parts."

SIU's report states, "needs to bring new organization and management concepts into being . . . to consolidate the phenomenal progress of the past 20 years and to prepare the university to render the services that will be required of it in the final quarter of the 20th century."

Madison Adopts $792,137 Budget; $50 Pay Raises

The Madison city council adopted a budget totaling $792,137 for the current fiscal year, a decrease of $875,611 from last year's total of $1,670,748, Tuesday night.

The large cut was due to elimination of a $1 million appropriation for plant construction and development at the Stephen Maers Industrial Park.

General corporate fund appropriations totaled $777,307, up $13,342.

The council granted salary increases of $50 a month for regular city employees, with the total cost of the raise estimated at $13,000 to $14,000, Acting Mayor Raymond Kosilek said.

There also were upward adjustments in salary for the hundreds of thousands of dollars and the names of hundreds of persons. He alleges that one "high-ranking" member of the deputy force received $350 in one year in bogus travel fees.

Griffith described the material as "voluntarily" and said time will be needed to study the documents to determine if violations occurred and, if so, whether they might be felonies or misdemeanors.

A further investigation is to be made by his office if a study of Bowman's documents indicates it is necessary.

He told police that, upon arising, he found that the back door and kitchen cabinet doors were open and his trousers and shirt were lying on the floor.

His driver's license and $38 were missing from his wallet. The door contained pry marks, but some were from a burglary last summer, he said.

Home Ransacked
The home of a local resident presently visiting out-of-town was entered this week by burglars who ransacked each room, a neighbor of the victim reported at 4:40 p.m. Tuesday.

Resident Ernest J. Veuch, 3204 Carlson avenue, said he discovered the neighbor's front door ajar when he checked the property Tuesday.

Entry was gained by using a pry bar on a rear door. A window at the back of the dwelling also had been smashed in an apparent attempt to enter. An inventory of missing items will be compiled when the householder returns, Veuch said.

Within a 20 to 30-minute period Tuesday, that Donald Wiggins, 2220 Elm street, was absent from home, burglars entered the house by cutting a screen in a bedroom window and forcing open the rear door of the kitchen, he reported at 10:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Blanket had been removed from a closet in a bedroom, but nothing appeared to be missing from the house, Wiggins said.

The intruders broke open boxes of plastic car wheels from the house when they heard the family auto enter the driveway.

A break-in at the Specialized Services center, 1801 Spruce street, was reported at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday by Richard Trebing, who said entry was gained through a broken window on the north side of the building.

The intruders broke open several boxes filled with rubber bands, scattering the elastic throughout the workshop for handicapped trainees.

Boxes of plastic car wheels also were pried open and the contents were strewn about the rooms. An initial check failed to show any items missing.

Two 15-year-old East St. Louis youths were chased and captured at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday by guards at Granite City Steel Company's Blast Furnace Division after the boys were observed attempting to steal a 1964 sedan parked in the plant parking area.

The youths, turned over to Granite City juvenile authorities, had forced the ignition lock, police said. When the pair saw security guards approaching, they fled into a nearby field, with GCS Guard William Spornmann capturing them.

An attempt to enter a second vehicle parked in the same lot was reported at 7:20 p.m. Tuesday by Ray Ross, 2205 Wood lawn avenue, who said a screw driver was used to remove the ignition and an unsuccessful effort was made to start the engine with a piece of wire.

Truman Coggins, 1616 Wellington drive, reported to the Madison County Sheriff's Office at 7:20 a.m. Tuesday that his 1968 auto with a locked ignition was stolen from his garage after 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Two minutes later, a resident of the 4900 block of Washburn informed the sheriff's office that a car had been abandoned and partially stripped behind his home. It was Coggins' auto.

A 23-circuit control citizen band transceiver was stolen from an emergency truck at the State Park fire department, it was reported at 10:10 p.m. Monday to the Madison County Sheriff's Office. It was valued at $140. There was no sign of recovery.

Harry McClure, 2110 East 20th street, reported at 6:20 a.m. Tuesday that his black vinyl-over-white 1968 two-door auto was stolen from his driveway during the night.

3 Homes Hit By Burglars

Burglary of three homes and a break-in at the Specialized Services Center were among crimes reported to Quad-City area authorities since Monday.

George Stagg, 2928 Dogwood drive, reported at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday that while the family was asleep after midnight, a burglar broke into his home.

He told police that, upon arising, he found that the back door and kitchen cabinet doors were open and his trousers and shirt were lying on the floor.

His driver's license and $38 were missing from his wallet. The door contained pry marks, but some were from a burglary last summer, he said.

age in this area, and that Granite City Steel Co. adds a "tre- mendous volume" every day.

Avoid Contamination
Malkovich said that plans must assure that an overflow of the diked settling basin used by Granite City Steel does not contaminate the lake.

He later said he doubted if Granite City Steel will be entered to continue to use the diked area under new regulations. Steppard said waste water from the industrial plant can be made suitable through treatment to eliminate pollution.

Shepard, who has devoted years of engineering studies to the project, said the most desirable feature is the lake park location in a large populated area, in addition to its size, which he compared to that of Lake Springfield.

"You Can Be Sure"
Expressing a continuing interest in the park development, Malkovich said, "Don't worry; it's coming."

"Population-wise, it's located very near the city," he said. The issue had not been before.

That point Karndeff, interested in the development of the lake for 35 years, briefly reviewed the history of local efforts. He said legislatures and governors have approved the project in the past, but the state always seemed to be short of funds.

"We hope to be in the priority line now," the commission chairman said.

"I think you are," the director replied.

17TH & STATE GRANITE CITY

World Championship Rodeo Here Next Week

The first "World Championship Rodeo" sanctioned by the International Rodeo Association (IRA) ever to be staged in the two-state metropolitan area will take place Saturday and Sunday, July 18 and 19, at the Tri-City Speedway.

Expected to draw top-ranked cowboys and bull riders from all sections of the U.S. and Canada, the rodeo is being sponsored here by the Granite City Jaycees, with proceeds to be used for several youth programs in the community.

The rodeo project is considered to be the "greatest and biggest undertaking the local Jaycees have ever attempted," according to Gary Davis and Ron Degonia, Jaycee rodeo co-chairmen, who said prize money will run into "several thousand dollars."

Tickets on Sale
Two performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 18, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 19. Tickets, costing $1.75 for one adult or two children, may be purchased in advance from any Jaycee member, employees at the Granite City post office and members of several local men's service clubs.

Jaycees officials currently are visiting various men's organizations to exhibit a 15-minute film which details the IRA rodeo point system. Local groups interested in viewing the movie are to contact Davis at 876-5399 or 876-6270, for information.

The Jaycees official explained that IRA sanctioning means that every cowboy will be competing for points which will count toward this year's IRA championships.

At the conclusion of the Jaycees rodeo, the official rodeo secretary will register points earned with the IRA office. All points are added to a system that registers results of over 250 rodeos across the nation.

Contestants are awarded one point for each dollar earned in competition in the simple IRA scoring system.

The cowboy who banks the most money in his respective event in the total point system is declared the national champion at the end of the rodeo season.

Rodeo a Tough 'Game'
Footed in rough and boxing is tough, but few sports can compare with rodeo for chills and spills, especially those approved by the IRA.

One of the least envied jobs—even by the toughest bronco riders—is that of a rodeo clown.

To the average fan at an IRA rodeo, the life of rodeo clown must be "fun, fun, fun" from performance to performance. A glance behind the scenes, however, shows a different picture.

The painted grin often hides tears of pain, for a rodeo clown is engaged in a difficult, dangerous business.

The man whose job it will be to make the spectators laugh at the Jaycee IRA Rodeo is clever Ron Degonia, the local rodeo co-chairman, who travels about 50,000 miles during the rodeo season, utilizing a one-ton truck to house his animals and to pull a man.

Jaycee Award Winner
In the off-season, he is employed by Gateway Dry Wall and Decorating, Inc., 4008 Braden avenue. Currently, he is on the rodeo circuit, working shows in Missouri, Iowa, Arkansas and Illinois.

At the Granite City Jaycees meeting in January, Degonia was voted "Jaycee of the Month" for December for his part in arranging the traditional Christmas party at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Sure, it's his job in the rodeo ring to make the audience laugh, an IRA official noted, but an even more important chore is to keep bull riders from injury. "You might say he enters the ring with a split personality."

The rodeo clown perhaps is the most important man in the arena during one of rodeo's most dangerous events—Brahma bull riding—with the clown expressly employed for this event, the association officer said.

Rescues Numerous
It is Degonia's work that often saves cowboys from injury or even death at the mercy of one of the rampaging bulls. For this reason, the clown must also be a brave, talented cowboy.

He must be a brainy performer, as well, knowing the traits and abilities of each bull. Chuck Smith of Paula Valley, Okla., IRA field representative, explained:

"When the chute gate swings open, the clown will predetermine whether this bull will spin left or right, buck straight away for three or four seconds and then cut sharply to the left or right, or go into a gyrating spin," Smith said.

"The clown must have a pretty good idea, too, whether a particular cowboy is likely to go to the whistle or buck down in a hurry," he added.

The clown who can keep the fans in stitches and the bull rider free from stitches is in great demand.

Built-in Courage
"He's a natural-born comedian with built-in courage and it is not unusual to find a clown jumping on the head and horns of a bull just as the animal attempts to gore a fallen rider. The clown stops at nothing to save a life."

Depending on his ability, the rodeo clown may be the highest paid in the arena, with a wage scale from $25 to $300 per performance.

Before taking up the clown and bullfighter profession, Degonia traveled the rodeo circuit as a contestant in both bull and bronco riding, appearing in many rodeos throughout the Midwest.

He has been injured several times while rescuing fallen riders.

In his new act, which is being seen for the first time this year, Degonia features trained men riding broncos and colts while working sheep into a little pen located in the center of the arena.

Each monkey has his own mount (dog), equipped with a tiny saddle.

Monkey Cowboys
His principal performers are Pedro Gonzales, riding Randy, and Speedy Gonzales, riding a dog.

Both monkeys are specialists in sheep herding, with the ability to stay right while riding mounts during a "real wild ride."

Degonia, 23, tried to quit the clowning business one year. "But I could only stay away about one week," he recalls. "I missed the excitement and the thrill of the rodeo arena."

His wife, Veronica, and four-year-old daughter, Cindy, travel with the rodeo clown between May and October.

"Both love the rodeo and my wife is handy at the sewing machine and makes all the clown shirts for my act. She takes care of the monkeys and some of the other animals I use," Degonia said. He also has performing skunks in his "rolling zoo."

Degonia works behind a barrel in the rodeo arena. He is constantly taking big chances and getting hit by bulls, but they usually are not hospital trips, as one performance turned out.

The clown was charged and was hit by a bull which tossed him eight feet into the air.

Must Protect Riders
Last year, he worked all the 77 ranch rodeos and performed for the H Bar C and Rolling Hill rodeo productions. He has been an IRA member for five years.

Before a performance, Degonia says a certain tension builds up within him. He says he's afraid he won't please the crowd, but once he is in the arena the tension lifts.

"My main job is to protect the cowboy at all costs. A thrown cowboy doesn't have much chance from a charging bull. They can move with the speed of lightning. While the bull chases me, the cowboy can flee to safety."

"When the crowd applauds and shows appreciation for the risks I take, then I work that much harder for them," Degonia commented with a grin. "After all, I'm out there to entertain and thrill them. That's my job. It's being funny and being a clown."

Phelps-Dodge Manager
Speaker in Madison

The history of the Phelps-Dodge Co. and its diversified method of producing aluminum was the topic of a talk by James Moore, works manager of the Madison plant, at the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Madison Rotary Club.

The meeting, held at the Madison recreation center, was attended by 25 members.

Moore, introduced by President Raymond Dragich, told the group the company originated in 1780 and at the time was strictly a copper producer.

During the early 1900s, the company became interested in aluminum and now works with both metals. Phelps-Dodge purchases aluminum ore from South America and transfers it from one plant to another in the process of making it into finished products, he said.

Club members will be taken on a tour of the plant next Wednesday and will be served lunch there.

SIU-SW Sunday Long-Distance Run

If you want an excuse for keeping in good physical condition or are keeping in shape for an AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) cross-country meet in the fall and would like to test your stamina in competition, you'll have an opportunity Sunday.

SIU-SW cross-country coach John Flamer is also the long-distance chairman of the Ozark AAU track club. He is directing long distance races every other Sunday at the SIU-SW campus.

Medals and ribbons will be awarded to the top placers in four divisions. One division is for men over 30 years of age, another division is for men under 30, including those of college age, one is for high school boys and there is an open age division for girls.

Whatever the division in which you belong, this Sunday you can declare yourself to run either a three-mile or a six-mile race. Four-mile and eight-mile races are planned for July 26.

To participate one should be at the flagpole on the SIU-SW campus at 6:30 p.m. Sunday with running shoes and clothes in hand. The running will begin at 7 p.m.

For further information, one may contact John Flamer in the Central Offices Building or phone his office, 892-2512.

and Granite City, through losing a number of close games, carried only a 3-6 record to rank fourth in the five-team North Division.

Simpson struck out seven and allowed four hits. Loser Don Sonnenberg, who had beaten by GC last week 5-2, showed good form, striking out 12, but Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion's GC Legion was able to score twice on five hits.

The first run came in the second inning. Dave Evans and Gary Willis each singled, Gary Stutch bunted safely to load the bases and Simpson drove in Evans on a fielder's choice.

Stutch started Granite City off to its second run in the last inning with a single. Bill Parks walked and Simpson singled to load the bases. Spitz Gasparovic hit into a fielder's choice.

Belleville beat Highland 4-3 and Dupu outscored O'Fallon 7-4 in Legion action Tuesday. Edwardsville blanked Mascoutah 4-0 behind Larry Johnson's one-hit pitching Wednesday.

Keen a Keen Racer, Cycle Fans Finding

The seemingly unbeatable Neil Keen, wearing National No. 10, will try to keep his two-week winning record perfect in Tri-City Speedway professional short-track motorcycle racing Saturday.

Qualifying time trials begin at 7:30 p.m. and cycle races at 8 p.m.

For the last two weeks, Keen has won every event he has entered and, on both nights, has been the fastest qualifier. Billy O'Brien, Bobby Stanton, Gary Cape, Ron Wilman and Robert E. Lee have placed well in feature races and have been picked up wins in events in which Keen did not compete.

Mechanical problems and collisions cut the field of sprint cars at the Tri-City Speedway last week, but there is hope for better luck tomorrow.

Russ Hibbard was out waiting for repairs to his auto before the evening began. Flea Aichins blew his engine during warmups and more autos were scratched as the program progressed.

Yet, Wib Spalding was rolling better than ever. He won a heat event, which is unusual for him, and topped top qualifier honors. Bill Utz jumped to the lead at the first turn of the feature but Spalding was right behind attempting to pass.

Spalding appeared to be getting a better bite from his tires in the turns on the clay track. If Spalding could get past Utz, it seemed another feature win would be added to his tally of victories.

After the eighth lap, Spalding surprisingly turned toward the pits. As his car slowed, rolling to a stop, it could be seen that the idea to stop was not Spalding's, his smoking engine had forced the decision to halt. An oil pump had malfunctioned.

Even though the feature was slowed with a yellow flag after Spalding's problems didn't end Friday. At the Jefferson, Mo., track, his car was turned over during the Saturday feature race and he again was unable to finish the race.

Spalding, Utz, Jones, Moughan, Hibbard and Dietzel are all expected to be ready for this Friday's racing. Dick Sutcliffe, who last week was hunting a share of a $10,000 purse in Iowa, has said he plans to be here Friday.

Stock cars in open hobby class racing will be back for a Double-O feature race, running alternate laps on the half-mile and quarter-mile ovals.

Bobby Stanton of Alton, winner of last week's Double-O, will return with his Camaro. Buck Beasley and Louie Jansen also have confirmed that they will be here.

Time trials are to begin at 7:30 p.m. and racing is slated to start at 8:30 p.m.

Wib Spalding piloting sprint car No. 401 had the Tri-City Speedway feature races all his own way for the beginning of the season. Two weeks ago he was second to Dick Sutcliffe's No. 40 and then, with Sutcliffe in Iowa, Spalding finished dead last, dropping out of the feature with mechanical problems.

Rink Here 'Area's Best'

Cliff Beham, a graduate of Washington University and a 14-year player in the National Hockey League, was the featured speaker at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Granite City Rotary club in the YMCA.

A Canadian, he migrated to St. Louis to play ice hockey, which he still enjoys as an amateur. He has been active in the Amateur Hockey Association of Missouri, organized nine years ago.

The association is designed to take youngsters aged five years to 18 and teach them to play in organized leagues in the St. Louis area. Last year, Granite City joined the organization and this year expects to enter four teams in the league.

Beham praised the Granite City ice rink, stating he thinks it is the best in this area and the ice is definitely better because of the roof protection. The structure provides shelter from the sun, rain and snow, but the roof begins high enough that an open-air view and environment is achieved.

The speaker stated he is of the opinion that in three or four years some high schools will have hockey as a regular sport. Boys can participate effectively in this type of activity regardless of their size, he stressed.

St. Louis now has eight rinks—more than in Boston, which for many years was the leading area for sponsoring the sport. Beham said he was a "natural" for ice skating, as his mother was a champion figure skater in Canada and his father played hockey. In Canada, boys take active interest in hockey because they have nine or 10 months of the year in which to practice, even in small towns, youngsters begin at an early age to learn the sport, he noted.

The big problem in the U. S. in regard to developing players is that youngsters cannot get enough time on the ice, due to the shorter skating season, Beham said.

GC Park Playground Ball Teams Active

Current softball standings in the Granite City park district's twin summer playground leagues, at the start of the third week, show the McKinley center with four wins and no losses, leading the six-team American League and Webster school with a 2 and 0 mark topping five-team National League.

Intra-center games are scheduled weekdays on Diamond No. 8 at Wilson Park, with American League teams playing at 1 p.m. and National squads at 2:15 p.m.

Greg Patton and Jim Greenwald supervise the softball program, feared to primary level youngsters who take part in the park district's summer recreational activities at 11 local playground centers.

Trailing McKinley center are Logan, Washington and Wilson playgrounds, each holding 1-1 records. Niedringhaus center with a 1-2 mark, Nameoki 0-3.

National League teams behind Webster are Parkview and Salvation Army centers with 1-0 records and Lincoln Place and Marshall centers, both with 0-2 marks.

Park Scores a Bit Embarrassing for 3 Western Squads

Three one-sided slugfests left drastically uneven results in Western Classic League softball Monday at Worthen Park. Cardinal Taverna battered the Jets 19-0, Bricklayers bombed Odballs 27-9 and Hagop's Heroes ripped Jays 27-3.

Cardinal stickwork handed the Jets a 21-7 hit disadvantage. Ed Moss led the attack with four-for-four plate work including a double. Cardinals spicing the game with power hitting were Bill Apperson with a home run, Clarence Hand with two triples and Fred Jones a double and triple.

Odballs collected nine runs on eight hits, including Jack Giger's homer, in the top of the opening inning. But from there on they got only four hits and no more runs. Bricklayers gathered 27 hits in the contest, led by John Medica's four safeties, including a homer, B.111 Grable's four singles, Mick Suss's two doubles and a triple and Gary Gubser's home run.

Hagop's outthit the Eagles 28-6. Hitting heroes for the Heroes were Jerry Cooke, four hits including a homer and a double, Larry Wainkalis, a home run and double, and Casey Krakowiecki, two singles and two doubles.

City Proposes a Law To Register Solicitors

Persons soliciting in Granite City for any purpose would be required to obtain a certificate of registration from the police department and meet a number of qualifying requirements under a new ordinance placed on first reading by the city council Monday night.

The bill, which was placed on first reading without opposition or discussion, would require all applicants for solicitor registration to submit to fingerprinting by the police department.

Registration would be denied to any person convicted of a felony within five years prior to the date of the application. The ordinance sets out that the regulation of solicitors is believed necessary because of complaints to police from persons concerning solicitors who have gained or sought to gain admittance to residences, or made nuisances of themselves, disturbing or annoying the occupants.

In some instances, it was noted, persons have gained admittance to homes or apartments as a solicitor to obtain information "for some illegal purpose."

All Solicitors Affected
Registration would be required of persons soliciting orders for purchase of goods, services, merchandise, foodstuffs or services, as well as those seeking to obtain gifts or contributions of money, clothing or any other valuable thing for the support of any charitable or non-profit association, organization, corporation or project. It applies also to solicitors of subscriptions to books, magazines and newspapers.

Terms of the ordinance provide that persons who register as a solicitor would be provided forms by the chief of police, who is to keep an accurate record of all applications.

The chief would rule on applications and grant or refuse registration certificates. The bill also provides that Granite City residents may choose as to whether or not they want any solicitors to call at their homes. The chief of police is to provide weather-proof cards, three-by-four inches, one of which says:

"Only Solicitors Registered in Granite City Invited."

The other card states: "No Solicitors Invited."

Registered solicitors may call at homes where a card inviting solicitors is posted on or near the door.

At homes or apartments where the other card is posted, solicitors are to be prohibited from calling, even though they are registered. The ordinance states that the chief is to provide the cards for householders "at cost."

Other terms of the ordinance provide that there shall be no solicitation for any purpose before 9 a.m. or after 9 p.m. daily, and none at all on any Sunday or holiday. A fine of up to $50 is set as a penalty for violation of terms of the ordinance.

The council also placed on first reading Monday night an ordinance prohibiting trespassing on private or public property. It prohibits entry on any property which is posted with signs; persons entering property not posted must leave when told to do so.

Penalty for violation is a fine of up to $50. The ordinance was placed on first reading without discussion by council members.

Approve Annexation
An ordinance annexing two tracts of property in Dresden Villa Addition No. 3 was advanced to third reading by suspension of the rules and was given final passage.

The property is occupied by Charles R. and Myrtle M. Cook and Jewel Everett, who petitioned the city to annex the tracts.

Another ordinance moved to final passage and adopted by the council Monday night makes it illegal to follow mosquito fogging equipment within less than 200 feet. The ordinance fixes a fine of $5 to $100 as the penalty for violation.

The council also gave final approval an ordinance calling for a stop sign on Zippel avenue at Willow avenue.

Annexation Requested
Another annexation request received by the council from Alice McMillan, 1022 Spring avenue, asking that the city annex lots 10, 11, 12 in block 14 of Bellemeade park, Namekoi road and Spring avenue, was approved by the council and City Attorney Leon Scroggins was instructed to prepare an ordinance for the annexation.

Requests from Suburban Baptist Church, 2500 St. Clair avenue, and Second Baptist church, 2100 Illinois avenue, for permission to conduct vacation Bible school parades Saturday, Aug. 1, were granted.

Suburban Baptist plans a parade of autos that will drive through the church neighborhood at 3 p.m. Second Baptist plans a noon parade in the West Granite area.

MORE ABOUT City, Citizens

quest and expect the proper city authorities to take appropriate action to recover for the benefit of the taxpayers of the city of Madison any commissions or fees paid to the City of Madison by the City of Madison. "In the event the city authorities do not take such action, I will then institute the necessary legal action to recover said commissions for the city of Madison and for any legal expenses incurred by me in connection with such legal action."

'Healthy' to Investigate
Describing the point Moss raised as being a legal question, Acting Mayor Kozielek, an alderman until the death of Mayor Stephen Maeras this year, cited the "political ramifications" associated with the July 28 special election. He added, "I personally feel it's a healthy situation" to look into such matters.

He called on the committee and citizens to "bring to light anything that is illegal." "I don't feel it was done intentionally" if there were procedural errors, Kozielek commented. He asked that the study include leasing of city-owned bridge purposes for sanitary landfill purposes, noting that Abel formerly was a landfill manager.

Kozielek also cited published reports of changes in vending machines at certain Madison county locations. He voiced confidence that Corporation Counsel John Gitchoff (not a part of the real estate agency) and City Attorney Vasileff would assist the investigative group in its efforts.

Answering a question by Reeves, Belloff said he had checked council minutes from 1966 to the present. "The only reference was that the Gitchoff Agency and the late Stephen Maeras were to meet with the president and general counsel of Caine Steel Co."

Council Not Individual
Krawkiewicz cited a $4650 fee paid to the realty firm as 10% of the $46,500 purchase of a tract in the city's Stephen Maeras Industrial Park. Vasileff said the only appropriate authorization of such payment would have been an action by the municipal governing body, the city council.

Abel alleged that a discrepancy exist on payment of money may exist on payment of money to the city. Municipal records show $3371 but income tax records of the landfill show $23,301 rent in 1968, he asserted.

Ready to 'Stay Up Late'
Moss urged that the investigation proceed with all possible speed. "I stay up late at night," he said in calling for the initial committee session immediately following the council meeting. He said he had pieced together many details and that he could obtain his information "within five minutes."

Broyles cited legal costs of about $90,000 paid to a St. Louis law firm which successfully represented the city in opposing a $7 million suit by the Missouri Highway Commission and long-distance trucking firms. The suit alleged that the city had collected bridge tolls after it could have ended them; the tolls later were halted a short time after the nearby toll-free Interstate 270 bridge opened.

The suit would have forced the city to repay all funds collected over a span of many years, and Vasileff said loss of the suit might have forced levying of special Madison taxes.

Gitchoff said the amount of the legal fee was proper in view of the size and seriousness of the suit and the fact that the case lasted two years for hearings and appeals.

Deny Referral Fees
Both city lawyers vigorously denied receiving any referral fees. "I wish I had," the corporation counsel said.

Moss asked whether the city will undertake action to recover fees and Kozielek said this will depend on the findings of the study group. Broyles urged that the group make its report at the next council meeting July 31.

Abel alleged that a discrepancy exist on payment of money may exist on payment of money to the city. Municipal records show $3371 but income tax records of the landfill show $23,301 rent in 1968, he asserted.

Broyles cited legal costs of about $90,000 paid to a St. Louis law firm which successfully represented the city in opposing a $7 million suit by the Missouri Highway Commission and long-distance trucking firms. The suit alleged that the city had collected bridge tolls after it could have ended them; the tolls later were halted a short time after the nearby toll-free Interstate 270 bridge opened.

The suit would have forced the city to repay all funds collected over a span of many years, and Vasileff said loss of the suit might have forced levying of special Madison taxes.

Gitchoff said the amount of the legal fee was proper in view of the size and seriousness of the suit and the fact that the case lasted two years for hearings and appeals.

Deny Referral Fees
Both city lawyers vigorously denied receiving any referral fees. "I wish I had," the corporation counsel said.

any individual could not properly on his own initiative. Discussing a later land transaction, Kismser said, "I was amazed to learn that a realty commission might be paid."

He asserted that no confirming resolution had been adopted on fees, and urged efforts to recover any such funds. Reeves agreed, saying, "It's wonderful of Mr. Moss to call it to our attention."

Broyles inquired about sale of bridge land and Vasileff told him that some was sold in 1967, with the money for it not paid until 1970. John Gitchoff attributed the delay to a waiver of access rights by the city of St. Louis.

Abel asserted, "A commission was paid in 1969 although the land was paid for in 1970. The city paid the commission before it even had the money in."

Early Payment Charged
Kismser said, "A commission was paid even before it was approved by the city." Moss said the delayed payment to the city was costly in that it tied up funds which the municipality otherwise could have utilized. Kismser noted a $4000 fee and $1800 expenses; Moss, citing the cost of the day, said, "You're down $20,000."

Moss asked whether the city will undertake action to recover fees and Kozielek said this will depend on the findings of the study group. Broyles urged that the group make its report at the next council meeting July 31.

Abel alleged that a discrepancy exist on payment of money may exist on payment of money to the city. Municipal records show $3371 but income tax records of the landfill show $23,301 rent in 1968, he asserted.

Ready to 'Stay Up Late'
Moss urged that the investigation proceed with all possible speed. "I stay up late at night," he said in calling for the initial committee session immediately following the council meeting.

He said he had pieced together many details and that he could obtain his information "within five minutes."

Multi-Million Venice Housing Plan Explained

A proposed housing development program for the city of Venice, now nearing completion for presentation to federal officials, will involve federal funds of from $2.5 to $3 million for general operation of the program, in addition to a vast amount of private capital that will be required for construction of new homes, a group of Venice public officials was told last night.

John Erickson of Leo A. Daly Co., St. Louis planning and engineering firm which has been preparing a joint Venice-Madison housing program, reviewed activities over the past year in development of the program.

He explained to the group the remaining procedures necessary to file with the federal government an application for a survey and planning grant.

To qualify for the grant, however, the cities must prepare a "workable program" specifying areas to be improved, types of home replacements planned and other factors, Erickson said.

Also attending the meeting were Ron Darden, Tyronne Thompson and John Engstrom, representing the Southwest Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, which prepared the Venice long-range development program, land use ordinances and zoning plan, and Leroy Eilers, also of the Leo A. Daly Co.

The development program and land use and zoning ordinances must be approved by the city as part of the workable program.

The government survey and planning grant would be used to conduct detailed engineering surveys and develop plans for the renewal project. This may take four to six months, Erickson said.

Erickson said public hearings will be held on major developments of the program and on zoning ordinances before they are acted upon officially.

The meeting was held in the Venice park district community building and was attended by about 50 city officials, school board officials and members of the city's zoning commission and planning commission.

State Will Not Accept Madison's Bridge

Thanks, but no thanks. That's how the state of Illinois feels about accepting title to the Madison-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge, located immediately downstream from the Interstate 270 free bridge.

Contacted this spring by Acting Mayor Raymond Kozielek, Illinois Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon has relayed to the city what Simon learned from William F. Collins, director of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Collins' views, read at a Madison city council meeting Tuesday night, disclosed that the department head had "re-viewed the ramifications of assuming control and operation of the old Chain of Rocks Bridge."

"Since this bridge no longer produces revenue, I can appreciate the burden on the city of Madison," Collins stated.

Repair, Maintenance
"However, for the city to meet the requirements of the law (Chapter 121, Section 10-102, Illinois Revised Statutes) for putting the bridge in a good state of repair prior to the state's takeover would probably be an insurmountable financial obstacle."

"The law also provides the state can pay no more than half the cost of the future maintenance of an interstate bridge acquired as a gift. Normally, the other half of the maintenance cost is absorbed by the abutting state or a political subdivision thereof."

"Even if all other obstacles could be overcome, I do not believe the best interests of the state of Illinois would be served in maintaining a major river bridge immediately adjacent to the new interstate highway bridge."

"I do not feel that I can recommend state maintenance of this bridge, and would recommend that other means of relieving the city of this burden be explored," Collins concluded.

Want to Buy Brooklyn Bridge?
Noting that "a millionaires down south" bought the London Bridge to be dismantled and shipped to the U. S., Alderman

Reeves suggested that a study be made of whether the Madison bridge could be sold to Brussels, Ill., where the state legislature is considering authorizing construction of a bridge.

It was noted that the 1970-71 city budget allocates $29,550 for the Madison bridge—$1500 taxes, $15,000 repairs, $4500 engineering, $7500 insurance and $1500 miscellaneous.

Kozielek said many contacts are being made in an effort to find someone willing to take responsibility for the bridge.

A brief council discussion brought out the belief that the angle or "dog leg" in the two-lane bridge could be straightened if the structure was taken apart and moved.

During action on bills, Alderman Broyles questioned the $45 monthly cost of maintaining barricades and lights on the Missouri end of the bridge, which is not being opened to vehicular traffic in the hope of delaying the time when repairs will have to be made.

The acting mayor said one lane is blocked by a load of dirt and the barricade is necessary for the other lane, which is kept usable to permit the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to service its lines on the Mississippi River span.

Kozielek agreed to study the feasibility of luminous paint rather than lights as a warning to motorists.

Bills paid included $4425 to A. H. Seebold for drainage improvements at the Chain Steel Co. site in the city's Stephen Maeras Industrial Park, and $2444 to Seebold for an industrial tract sanitary sewer extension.

Four Condemnations
The council voted to start condemnation proceedings against buildings at 406 State street, 1425 Third street, 1003 Greenwood street and 1639 and 1639 (rear) Second street.

Aldermen Kissner, Broyles and Krakowiak called for the building inspector, health inspector and their assistants to attend future council meetings so that aldermen can review community needs with them.

The council sanctioned gradual repayment by a motorist of $460 spent to replace a Sixth street and McCambridge avenue stoplight damaged in a collision last Jan. 30.

Monroe President of School Trustee Board

Karl Monroe of Collinsville was elected president of the Madison County Board of School Trustees for the next biennium Monday in the office of Supt. Willbur Trimpe of the Educational Service Region.

Elected for a six-year term at the March 17 election and seated on the board at this meeting were Joseph N. Berry of Alton, serving for the first time, and Gordon Burroughs of Edwardsville and Homer A. Huber of Granite City, continuing to serve.

All members were present; the others are F. M. Leever of Wood River, G. A. Shaffer of Troy and Willard Flagg of Collinsville.

The board is bound by law to meet on the first Monday of each quarter and it has set the time of meeting as 7 p.m. Dates for future meetings are Oct. 5, Jan. 4, April 5, July 5 and Oct. 4, 1971.

Trimpe, ex-officio secretary of the board, set forth the duties of the board as listed in the Illinois School Code.

At the request of the respective boards of education, dates were set for sale of property for the Collinsville school district July 25 and the Roxana district Aug. 1.

A deed of conveyance was approved for property from the Alton school district to E. Culp and heirs.

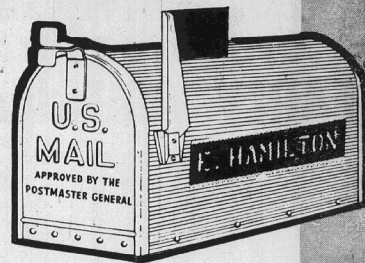

Old Sheds Burns
Firemen were called to the home of Paul Hillis, 2212 Illinois avenue, where an old shed was burning at 10 a.m. Tuesday. There was no loss.

Payless Payday Drawing Nearer For City Staff

All Granite City employees face a payless payday next Wednesday, Mayor Donald Partney warned the city council Monday night.

Partney told the council he will sign no payroll checks for salaries for the first half of this month unless council members approve payment of salaries to two women police dispatchers. The council has held up approval of the salaries since March 15.

The mayor's warning came after Alderman Charles Moerlein, who consistently has made a motion to hold up the women's pay, moved again for a salaries on the payroll list for the July 1-15 period. In addition, the council approved of the salary due Mrs. Lavesta Russell, who was appointed Monday night by Mayor Partney as a police dispatcher.

Mrs. Russell was appointed to succeed Mrs. Cleo Buttery, who was last named because of payless paydays.

Partney pointed out that salary due Mrs. Russell will be in arrears as an employee of the inspector's office, where she worked prior to her transfer to the police department, and that Mrs. Russell's job with the police department was not to be discontinued.

The council, however, voted in favor of Moerlein's motion to hold up the pay of both Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Buttery.

Partney, Moerlein Clash Discussion of the issue led to an exchange of words between Partney and Moerlein.

Moerlein said the mayor's threat to hold up the pay of two employees because of a dispute involving two jobs was an injustice to the police who are in no way involved in this dispute.

"This argument is not a question of the ladies' ability to handle the job," Moerlein said to the mayor, "but a question of the way it has been presented to you. None of the other employees are involved in this."

In response to a reference to a mayor's duties, Partney replied: "Remember, I served two years under you in St. Louis."

"And it was two years too long," former Mayor Moerlein retorted.

"With me, it's four years too long," the mayor said.

Addresses Council
The council granted permission to Arthur Griffin, business representative of the Laborers Union, to address the council on the labor issue.

"If this situation continues for any length of time," Griffin said, "it is going to present a critical problem. For these people to be put in this position is ridiculous. These people are the breadwinners of their families and you are tampering with their livelihood. I can't reconcile this. I think these people deserve a better break than this."

Partney replied that he believes "everyone is entitled to a day's pay for a day's work, and we have two people who have not been paid for four months. If we pay some, we are going to pay all."

The payroll approved by the council Monday night amounted to $55,841. All vouchers for the payroll must be signed by the mayor.

Venice Park Tax Levy $99,582; Increased 12.5%

A new 1970-71 tax levy calling for extension of $80,122 in all funds was adopted by the Venice Park board at a regular meeting last night.

The overall levy is an increase of $99,582 by extension of taxes for payment of $19,460 in bond principal and interest.

The overall levy is an increase of $11,834, or 12.5%, over last year's levy total of $88,748, including the extension for bond payments. The levy for bond purposes is made by the county clerk's office and added to other fund levies voted by the park board.

The new park district levy includes $42,442 for the general fund, down $144 from last year's figure of $43,986.

Virtually all of the increase was for the extension for recreational purposes, levied at $32,260, an increase of $10,760 over last year's levy of $21,500.

The park board also levied $3500 for the municipal retirement fund, up from $2800; $1820 for liability insurance, up from $1130, and $200 for auditing, down from $600.

All of the levy extensions approved by the board were in the same amounts as the funds budgeted for the 1970-71 fiscal year several weeks ago.

The board also decided to accept a full insurance settlement of $4000 on a 1968 dump truck damaged extensively by fire last month, and agreed to seek $1000 on a new pickup truck. The truck was damaged when it became mired down as it was dumping debris on a fire in Lee Park.

Mayor, Attorney At Hearing in Water Rate Case

Granite City Mayor Donald Partney and City Attorney Leon Scroggins were in Springfield today to attend an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing in which the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. rate case may be reopened.

City council members were notified by the ICC Monday night that the commission has granted applications for a rehearing of the water rate case sought by a group of Madison and St. Clair county municipalities and large water users. The council was notified that a hearing was set for 10 a.m. today.

The commerce commission granted the company a rate increase averaging about 24% for most water users about six weeks ago, ending nearly a year of hearings in which the company had sought an increase of 47%.

Protested Increase

Many municipalities protested the increase as being too high. The ICC informed the Granite City council that it had granted petitions for a rehearing in behalf of Granite City, East St. Louis, Belleville, Swansea, Caseyville, Shiloh, O'Fallon and the Memorial and St. Elizabeth Hospitals in Belleville.

Caseyville, Shiloh and O'Fallon are among the large water users, since they purchase water from East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. for distribution through their own systems.

At the same time, the council delayed action Monday night on a petition by the water company for an excavation permit to make 18 openings 363 feet for relocation of water service in the area of Johnson road.

Alderman Parmley suggested that the petition be referred to the street and alley committee

Prologue of the two-part play occurs in the 1890s. The remainder of the play occurs 16 years later.

Playing the part of Alma as a child is Julia Birdman of Collinsville. The part of her minister father is played by William Dale Swan of East Alton. His wife is portrayed by Mrs. Beverly Scroggins of Granite City.

John Buchanan Jr., the man in Alma's life, is played by Harry Stephens of Hazelwood.

to clarify the location. The permit listed the excavations on Johnson road between Edgewood drive and Clark avenue. Parmley said may not be an accurate location.

Mo. He is portrayed as a child by Jeff Kluth of Edwardsville.

Other performers, in order of appearance, are Mary Pat Quintin, O'Fallon, as Rosa Gonzales; Chris Downard, Jennings, Mo., as Nellie Ewell; James Klaus, Marine, as Roger Doremus.

Witnesses to Attend District Conventions

Angelo Scaglione, presiding minister of the Granite City congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the local Witnesses have been invited to attend "Men of Goodwill" District Assemblies to be held in 46 cities throughout the U. S. and Canada this month through August.

About 400,000 delegates will be attending the conventions from all 50 states and the four-day program will be oriented to benefit parents and young people. There will be dramas presented, featuring Biblical and modern settings, as well as symposiums.

A featured speaker at many of the conventions will be Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, the representative agency for Jehovah's Witnesses in 203 lands.

As president, Knorr travels 50,000 miles a year, visiting 90 countries. Born in Bethlehem, Pa., in 1865, he became a member of the headquarters staff in 1923 and president in 1942. He will deliver the highlighted public address on Sunday afternoons, "Saving The Human Race—in the Kingdom Way."

Scaglione said there is special interest in the lecture because, with the world threatened with nuclear holocaust, bacteriological and radiological warfare, disruption of the balance of nature and ecological ruin with pollution of the air, land and sea, "Salvation can come only through an act of God, by His Kingdom."

Local residents will be baptized as an outward symbol of having dedicated their lives to God.

The Witnesses have experienced the greatest growth in the history of their organization, 170,000 having already been baptized in the last year and a half.

Witnesses in this region will be attending conventions in St. Louis, Detroit, Mich., Bloomington, Minn., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

City to Borrow $170,000 From Sewer Reserve Funds

The Granite City council voted Monday night to borrow $170,000 from one of the city's Nameoki sewer reserve funds to pay outstanding sewer repair bills and thus avert the necessity of a bank loan with accompanying 5% interest.

Council members approved a resolution introduced by Alderman Paul Schuler, chairman of the ordinance committee, calling for transfer of the $170,000 from the Nameoki Area Line Reserve Fund to the operation, maintenance and repair fund out of which sewer repair bills are being met.

Mayor Donald Partney explained that the money will be used to pay off sewer repair bills in that amount which were approved for payment in June. The resolution provided that the money borrowed from the Nameoki reserve fund must be repaid with either tax revenue or monies received under the flood disaster program, whichever is received first.

Expect Funds Soon
Partney said the city expects an allocation of $203,000 in disaster aid funds within the next week.
He said he has been informed that a voucher assuring funds in that amount now is at the Belleville regional office of the Illinois Civil Defense department.

As a result, $170,000 of that money taken from the Nameoki reserve fund, leaving about $33,000.
In Monday night's meeting, however, the council also approved payment of additional bills for sewer repairs totaling $203,314, all payable to A. H. Seebold Co., contractors on the city's sewer repair work.

A second loan from the Nameoki reserve fund will be necessary to meet these bills, the mayor said. He said the payment plan will be handled in this way:
"When we receive the $203,000 promised us by the Office of Emergency Preparedness (flood disaster) we will repay the first loan from the Nameoki reserve fund, replacing the $170,000 so borrowed by resolution Monday night. This will leave about $33,000."

to the $203,314 in bills approved this week. The council will bring in another resolution under which we will borrow back the $170,000 from the Nameoki reserve fund. This will provide enough money to pay the sewer repair bills approved by the council Monday," Partney noted.

Eliminates Interest
The mayor explained that this will leave a debt of $170,000 in the Nameoki reserve fund, but that "in this case we are borrowing from ourselves and do not have to pay 5% interest which we would have to pay if we borrowed the money from a bank."

The amount owed the reserve fund will be repaid with tax revenue or future receipts of disaster aid funds.
The federal grants were allocated under the disaster aid program set up late last summer after the heavy rains and interior flash floods of July 1969, which did extensive damage to sewers, drainage lines and other facilities.

The Quad-City region was included in a flood disaster area proclaimed by Governor Ogilvie. City council members sought to borrow bank funds to tide the city over its present financial dilemma, but Partney refused to go along with the plan and the proponents of a bank loan learned the mayor's signature was necessary for the legality of any loan.

"Under this system of borrowing our own funds, we are saving the taxpayers' money by eliminating the interest," the mayor said.
General Fund Transfer
At the same time, council members Monday night approved a resolution transferring $63,340 from the sales tax account for distribution to 11 general fund operating accounts.

The distribution included $21,403 for the fire department account, $10,906 for the police account, and $15,636 for the sanitation department.

Claims approved for payment during the meeting, in addition to the $203,314 in sewer repair bills, included $23,602 in general fund costs, $906 out of the sewage treatment plant fund, $34,727 out of the arterial street maintenance fund, and $67 out of the sewer extension fund.
Among general fund bills approved for payment were $3799 for hospitalization premiums for city employees, $1702 in water company charges for 412 fire hydrants, $1012 for purchase of 500 feet of high-pressure hose and couplings for the street department, $4780 to the Illinois Power Co. for lighting, $1890 for four 35-gallon drums of fogging material; and $5363 as the city's payment to the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund for June.

Venice Firemen Fight Grass and Shed Fires
Venice firemen were called at 2:25 Tuesday to the south side of the Broadway viaduct to extinguish a grass fire. Firemen said the blaze apparently was started by a cigarette thrown from a passing car. There was no damage.

Firemen also were called at 10:10 p.m. Monday to extinguish a fire in a shed at the home of Cicero Isaac, 615 Salveo street, and at 5:23 p.m. Monday to a fire in a vacant, one-story condemned house at 313 Weaver street, Venice; there was no loss in either instance.

Rd. Maintenance Work Starts in Pontoon Area

Pontoon Beach residents are being asked to keep parked vehicles off village streets Friday and Monday to permit road maintenance work, Fred Reecer, road committee chairman for the Pontoon village board of trustees, said today.

Reecer said paving and chipping of all village streets will start tomorrow, with crews working in various sections of the community again Monday. Residents are to park vehicles in driveways or well onto the shoulder of roadways.

Parked vehicles which interfere with maintenance work are to be towed away, Reecer noted. Several autos in the Lakeview Estates area were removed after warnings were issued last summer.

Daily Adult Swim Hour Starts Monday at Pool

Clark Niepert, manager of Wilson Park pool, today announced a special daily adult recreational swim program for adults only, to start Monday and continue through the summer months if patronized.

Businessmen on lunch hours may find a swim relaxing, Niepert said, stressing that the new program is restricted to adults for the one-hour period.

Mixed Reaction to Report Assailing SIU Management

A management consulting firm's recommendations for reorganizing the top administration of Southern Illinois University drew mixed responses from SIU officials Wednesday at Carbondale.

Main points of the report are decentralizing many functions now under the president, giving the separate Carbondale and Western campuses more educational autonomy under their respective chancellors, and strengthening the governing functions of the board of trustees.

The report, by the firm of Creasap, McCormick and Paget, was commissioned by the trustees last November and was presented to them yesterday at a special board meeting.

President Delyte W. Morris read a statement rebutting some critical aspects of the report and contending that some of its proposals would downgrade SIU.

Growth In Spite Of?
Morris pointed to what he called the report's "inconsistency between praise for the university's growth and accomplishment, and a general disparagement of its management, as if the growth had taken place in spite of the management."

Morris said he would match the labor and effectiveness of SIU's board of trustees "with that of any group of trustees in any comparable institution."

The management firm said the trustees had little staff support and depended largely on the president for direction. It also said the SIU trustees represented only a portion of the state and were restricted in occupational interests.

Regional Control Shift
"It would appear to me," Dr. Morris said, "that if there is any provincialism at work, it is in the views of those who still think that little of importance can come from Southern Illinois, or who allege provincialism here out of a desire to see control shifted to another province of the state."

SIU-SW Campus Chancellor John W. Wischert said it would be "inappropriate not to recognize things that make for the great strength of SIU. It couldn't have reached its present status without a strong president."

Willis Malone, acting chancellor at Carbondale, criticized the complexity of the recommended organization but urged prompt action on reorganization. He said recruiting a permanent chancellor for SIU at Carbondale will be difficult unless administrative organization is clearly set forth.

Responsibility Split
University budget officer Clifford Burger foresaw complications from the splintering of responsibility for budget preparations (now a central organization function).

He said the new organizational chart doesn't show clear communications lines between a proposed board of trustees staff, the chancellors and the "System President."

While expressing some doubts about details, board members present stressed the need for quick action on reorganization. Said trustee Ivan Elliott Jr. of Carbondale:

"SIU has been so preoccupied with its tremendous growth it hasn't effectively reorganized to meet the changing times. We've been like the Pottawatomie track that outruns its supply lines."

"Despite the critical tone, the report is a recognition of the genius of the past 20 years; it shows the need to consolidate SIU's success."

Set Up Board Office
The four trustees present unanimously accepted the report and made the first move toward implementing it. That was to set up a formal Office of the Board of Trustees, appoint a board committee to define the duties of the Board Staff, as outlined by the report, would have an off-campus office and would report only to the trustees.

The board said other recommendations will be implemented as soon as possible after necessary deliberation.

Two Youths Hit, Injured by Cars

An eight-year-old boy and a 15-year-old girl were struck by autos in separate accidents this week. They were the only injury cases reported in a total of 13 accidents in and near the Quad-Cities.

A motorcyclist, who apparently failed to see an eight-year-old boy standing in an alley, struck and injured the child at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Bobby Ellis, son of Mrs. Nellie Ellis, 804 Kirkpatrick Homes, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for suppurative abscesses to the chest and knees and was released.

His mother told police the boy was in the alleyway at the rear of the Ellis apartment when a man left a nearby apartment on a motorcycle and the cycle knocked the child to his knees.

Mrs. Ellis said the rear of the cycle may have struck her son, with the cyclist unaware of the accident.

Girl, 15, Struck
Mrs. Debra Pruetz, 15, of 1630 Maple street, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10 a.m. yesterday for treatment of injuries suffered when she was struck by a pickup truck in the 2000 block of Edwardsville road, according to a report to Madison police.

Officers said she was hit by a truck driven by Gerald H. Elliott, 4364 Highway 182, as she was walking west on Edwardsville road. Elliott told police the girl stepped suddenly in front of his truck.

She was taken by ambulance to the hospital where she was treated for abrasions and contusions to both legs. She was x-rayed and was admitted as a patient.

Motorist Flees from Officers: 7 Charges

Jack W. Robertson, 35, of 1415 Fifth street, was held in the Madison city jail on seven charges this morning after escaping from the police headquarters, where he had been taken to be booked on several traffic charges. He was recaptured in the alley in the 1400 block of Third street.

Authorities said Robertson is charged with escape, driving under the influence of liquor, passing a stop sign at Second street and Madison avenue, careless driving, improper display of license plates, failure to notify the secretary of state of change of address, and failure of an auto registration.

Robertson was arrested about 6:35 a.m. by Officer Thomas Volosky who said he saw Robertson turn the corner at a high rate of speed. Volosky overtook the car at Third and Madison avenue and Robertson was taken to police headquarters.

Volosky said that when he stepped into an office to obtain a traffic code book, Robertson fled out the door. Police picked him up only a few minutes later and added the charge of escape to the list of alleged traffic offenses.

Paddlers Pre-Teen Party on July 15

Paddlers will hold a pre-teen party Wednesday from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the Paddlers' pool. There is "Fun in the Water" and all games will be in the water. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

Tickets may be obtained in advance for 50 cents from Mrs. Dixie Griffin or Mrs. Marsha Bunker.

Venice Youth Hit by Train Is Improving

A Venice youth who stepped in front of a train at the Kerr crossing in Venice Monday is in good condition today at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Floyd Clifton, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifton, 200 Broadway, Venice, listed in the Kerr crossing accident, is recovering from injuries to the left leg, abrasions and contusions to the head and face and a lacerated right ear.

He had waited for one train to pass and then started walking across the Kerr street tracks and stepped in front of a Penn-Central locomotive.

Music Under Stars to Feature Patriotism

A patriotic theme will be evident in the second "Music Under the Stars" concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Wilson Park rink pavilion, Raymond Voorhes, music director, announced today. The public is invited to attend the summer concert series without cost.

Taking part will be members of the Adult, Junior High and Grade School choruses who will present a selection of stirring patriotic songs. The program will conclude with a songfest in which the audience will participate.

75 Local Youths to Compete In Region Sports Jamboree

Close to 75 youthful athletes from the Quad-Cities will travel Saturday to the West junior high school in Alton, site of the Jaycees' 1970 "Regional Junior Sports Jamboree."

The event is co-sponsored annually by area Jaycee groups and the Illinois Youth Commission for youngsters from area communities.

The contestants, ages ten through 15 years, qualified for the sectional competition by winning first-place awards in local jamborees, including those held in Granite City May 23 and at Venice high school May 2. About 45 will participate from Granite City and 27 from the Madison-Venice area.

Travel arrangements were completed earlier this week by Stan Brown, coordinator for the Granite City contest and Al Delay, chairman of the Venice-Madison preliminary meet. Both are members of the Granite City Jaycee organization.

Regional competitors from Granite City will depart at 7:30 a.m. Saturday from the Tri-Mor Brunswick Bowl parking lot, with Venice-Madison contestants leaving at 7:30 p.m. from Venice high school.

Lunches will be furnished at the jamboree site, Brown noted, but pocket money for soda or other refreshments should be provided by the youngsters by their parents. He urged all contestants to report at the two boarding areas promptly at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

Competition is divided into three age categories—midget division, 10-12 years; juniors, 13-15; and intermediate, 14-15. Both boys and girls compete in 18 field events, such as high jump, long jump and baseball throw, and in 23 running events, including 50, 75, 100 and 200-yard dashes and 200-yard and 400-yard relay races.

Winners in the regional meet are eligible to take part in the Illinois Jaycees' IYC statewide track and field jamboree, slated to be held this year in August at Pekin.

Contestants who qualified from Venice-Madison include: Leonard King, Bernie Wood, Carol Wiley, Gloria Johnson, Mary Kittel, Robert Gardner and Jack Ballentine, midget; Dwight Gardner, James Turner, Madeline Wiley, Nadine Wiley and Orlando Adams, juniors; and Glendia Tindell, Patricia Hagler, Leslie Young, Dennis Wiley, Christopher Stanley, Darryl Franklin, Osbert Lomax, Jean McCormick, Yolanda Lewis, Carl Campbell, Hoesa Franklin Jr., and Kenneth Franklin, intermediates.

Double Champions
Five double winners emerged from the Granite City jamboree, with the quintet to compete in the same two events at the Alton regional meet.

The five double champions were Dale Williams, Dennis Cruse, Cindy Arnold, Jerry Sedares and Luann Nolan.

In preparation for Saturday's contest, four youthful athletes entered the East St. Louis district track and field meet last weekend, capturing first place.

Checkerboard Squares
Featured in Missouri
The Checkerboard Squares traveled to Crystal City, Mo., during the weekend to participate as the featured entertainment in the Elks Independence Day spectacular.

The patriotic flavor of the Checkerboards' red, white and blue costumes prompted Don Hecktor, exalted ruler of the Elks lodge there, to invite the group to the speaker's platform to lead about 4000 spectators in singing the National Anthem.

During the program, the Checkerboards conferred with Congressman Richard Icard of Missouri, the featured speaker of the evening.

Attending were Gary Barron, Mike Siebert, Keith Goff, Joe Berkeley, John Berkeley, Gary Greene, Bruce Howell, Scott Howell, Joe Anselmo, David Fanning, Warren Pingle, Will Standen, JoAnn Weidner, Rosaria Anselmo, Francesca Anselmo, Shelly Boyd, Kim O'Dell, Karen Goff, Barb Sasyk, Dawn Wallace, Angie Early, Sherlene Boyd, Marianne Garino, Susie Grimes and Suzanne Greene.

Parents and friends providing transportation were Eugene Goff, Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell, Mrs. Lucille Garino, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Greene, Gary Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boyd, Mrs. Tony Anselmo and Mr. and Mrs. Farenelli.

The Checkerboards' next appearance will be a floor show during the "Summer Admiral" July 18 during the day cruise. Shows on Aug. 1 and 2 will follow at the Polish National Church in Madison.

Record Summer Enrollment at Eastern Ill. U.

A record summer enrollment at Eastern Illinois University marks another milestone in President Quincy Douda's efforts to operate the university at full capacity on a year-round basis, officials there report.

Eastern's enrollment for its regular 1970 summer quarter and graduate session is 4774, an increase of 15 1/2% over the 1969 level.

Summer attendance has increased steadily since Eastern pioneered the year-round operation in 1958. Use of a full-length summer quarter levels out the operation and provides for a fuller utilization of university resources and facilities.

According to official figures, enrollment in the 10-week summer quarter of undergraduate studies stands at 3716, with an additional 1058 students enrolled in the eight-week graduate session.

Four Local Students Serve at Alton State

Eighteen area high school and college students are doing volunteer work throughout Alton State Hospital this summer.

Among them are Anna Borrer, Mary Beth Gordon, Margie Settlemyer and Jerry Doyle of Granite City.

Their work ranges from speech and language classes to tap dancing and ballet.

Murray State Honors

Harvey L. Bunker and Diane F. Westcott of Granite City have been listed on the dean's list for the spring semester at Murray State (Ky.) University. They were among a record number of 885 students representing nearly 15% of the total enrollment.

Four Local Troops at Scouts' Summer Camp

Four Boy Scout troops from the Quad-City area are attending the third one-week period of camping at Camp Sunnen this week. They will return home Saturday.

Troop One, sponsored by the Venice Lions club and under the leadership of Jack Tolliver, has 11 scouts at the camp; Mike and Bob Dixon, Jeff and Dave Tolliver, Russ Pace, Bill Mathers, Jim Williams, Jeff Corrie, Robert Schmidt, Richard Foote and Robert McKinney.

Troop 18 is led by Raymond Siebert and sponsored by the Knights of Columbus. Members at the camp are Robert Diaz, Philip Gac, Harold Papp, Michael Siebert and Bradley Stack.

Also attending are members of Troop Nine, sponsored by Kirkpatrick Homes, and Troop 88, sponsored by the Madison County Community Center. Their campers have not yet been listed in the council records.

12 County 4-H'ers In Madison Events

Twelve Madison county 4-H Club youths have taken part in three divisions of judging events on the University of Illinois campus.

They qualified for the state events by placing as the top four contestants in recent county judging events.

Included among the youths was Terri Rich of Granite City, whose team qualified for an "A" rating in the horse and pony division. She also earned a red ribbon.

The horse and pony team was among 11 of the blue ribbon teams out of 61 county teams participating in the state. Other county teams received "B" and "C" ratings in dairy and livestock divisions. Nearly 800 4-H members took part in the contests.

Teenagers--Fewer by 1980, But Wealthier

If today's teenager seems wealthy—just wait! 10 years. Twice as many will be well off.

An analysis shows that 20% of today's teenagers (12 to 17 age range), come from homes having an income exceeding $15,000.

By 1980, that figure will be 40%. And allowances may increase, too.

The number of adolescents is expected to decline though.

There will be fewer large families by the beginning of the 1980s.

In 1970, 40% of all children come from families containing at least four offspring. But it is believed that large families will be far less common during the next decade.

The Bureau of Census reported in December that the average American family in 1969 numbered 3.6 persons.

This figure has declined in recent years because of wider spacing of births by couples, and the greater use of "safer" birth control methods.

Figures published in May showed the American birthrate has declined from 23.7 per 1000 persons in 1961 to 17.6 per 1000 today.

Luxuries Now Necessities While the trend in smaller families is expected to continue—it looks like families are costing more, too.

Goods once classified as "luxuries" are now termed "necessities" by families and continue to be purchased despite the economic slowdown.

An April 1970 survey by the National Industrial Conference Board showed that although 19% of the 10,000 families contacted classify business conditions as "bad," 30% plan to buy major appliances within the next six months.

Purchases will probably include such items as color television sets, stereo systems, hair dryers and cosmetic appliances, blenders, air conditioning units and electric dishwashers.

All of these items (if available at all) would have been luxuries 30 years ago.

But, today, the average home contains at least one of these goods.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported in December that 93% of all American households contained at least one television set in January 1969 and 29% had two or more sets. Color television sets were owned by 30% of all households.

Spending Uptrend Since adolescents take a cue from adult examples, it is expected that tomorrow's affluent teen will own some type of durable goods.

A study by Gilbert Youth Research projected total spending power for teenagers in 1970 at nearly $21 billion. The study said it was $10 billion in 1963 and $17 billion in 1967.

Teenage income includes regular or part-time jobs, allowances and gifts.

Expenditures by teens mainly center on entertainment and hobbies. Automobiles and gasoline take top priority for boys, and grooming items usually top the list for young girls.

Maybe in 1980 Dad will have to ask Junior for the car keys?

SIU Security Unit On Radio Network

The Southern Illinois University Security Office at Carbondale has become one of the first law-enforcement agencies in Illinois to receive mobile radio units that will link it to a statewide emergency communications network.

It was announced by Security Officer Thomas L. Lefler.

Lefler said his office has received 12 units as part of the Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network, the first police car-to-car communications system of its kind in the nation. The ISPERN frequency will enable the Security to communicate with municipal, county and state law-enforcement agencies immediately in emergency situations, he said.

The units were furnished at no cost by the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement through funding by the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission. The Security Office is responsible only for cost of installation and any equipment needed to monitor the network frequency at the communications desk in Security headquarters, Lefler said.

Lefler said that by the end of 1978 the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement plans to have units installed in police vehicles throughout the state. He said that as a participant, SIU officers will be able to coordinate and cooperate more effectively with other law-enforcement agencies in the war on crime.

Scouting Skills and Adventure Much the Same After a Half Century

The years go by but many things remain constant—such as the outdoor fun and skills of the Boy Scouts of America.

At the lower right, scouts in 1918 cross the dam at Stout Creek, Lake Killarney, Arcadia, Mo. Carl Graham, a charter member of the council and a camp leader in 1918, recalls that on Friday, July 12, 1918, "We got up early this morning to fish, and caught minnows and grasshoppers for bait. We had a fair catch. Some of the boys went with Mr. W. R. Webb about a mile down the creek and caught a few bass.

"The water is clear and one must hide from the fish to catch them. We had our daily swim and, after supper, we had a campfire."

One of the 1918 campers wrote in his diary, "Mr. Webb told us a ghost story and about a coon hunt and then took us up to the top of the mountain and built a campfire there."

"Sid West sat down on a bunch of thorns. Everyone thought it was funny but Sid, Mr. Webb told us another ghost story and then tried to lose us on the way down. Some experience!"

The Camp Sunnen schedule on Friday, July 3, 1970, was as follows:

6:30 a.m.—Fire builders get up and start the cooking fires.

7—Reveille and flag-raising. Grub hustlers go to commissary to get food.

8—Breakfast. 9 to 11:45—Archery, scoutcraft marksmanship, merit badge work.

Noon—Pick up grub. 12:30—Lunch and rest period.

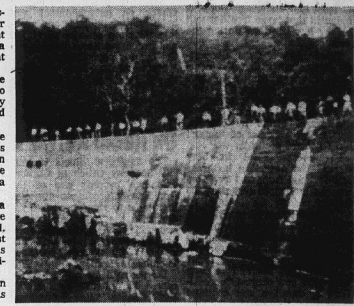

2 to 4:45 p.m.—Swimming, canoeing and boating, pioneering, merit badge work. 4:50—pick up grub. 6—Retreat and supper.

7—Handicraft, merit badge work, general "goofing off" time.

8:30—Closing campfire; going home Saturday.

9:30—"Taps." The close of a week of adventure, enjoyment, and a bit of "growing up" to manhood. Only 51 weeks and they'll be back at camp.

Conway Joins NROTC At U. of Mississippi

Daniel Alan Conway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Conway, 2561 State street, has received a certificate of achievement from the Bureau of Naval Personnel announcing his selection for admission to the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss.

A June 1970 graduate of Granite City high school, he will enroll there Sept. 10 after taking the oath as a Reserve midshipman.

At GCHS, Conway was president of the Advanced Mixed Chorus, vice-president of the Modern Music Masters, a member of the Madrigal Group, one of the two top-rated members of the vocal music department and a member of dramatics classes and the Homecoming play cast.

A certified Red Cross water safety instructor, he has taught at Wilson Park for three years. Last winter, he was a YMCA swimming instructor and a "Y" scuba diving assistant instructor. He is in his second summer as a Wilson Park lifeguard.

The Navy certificate cites high scholastic achievement in worldwide college aptitude competition.

58ers 4-H Club Attends County Achievement Days

The 58ers 4-H Club met Thursday night at St. John United Church of Christ on Nameoki road to plan for their annual Achievement Day. Vice-president Nancy Hamilton conducted the meeting. Marianne Yevlin led the girls in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance and Becky Gibbs led the 4-H Pledge.

Mrs. Harriet Bunselmeyer, club leader, announced that Marianne Yevlin had won at the Madison County Foods Demonstration Day and will represent the county as she demonstrates making filled cabbage rolls at the State Fair in Springfield in August. Marianne was chosen to display a sweater at the 1969 State Fair, where she received a Blue Ribbon for her entry.

Plans were made for the local Achievement Day last night at the church. Parents and friends attended. The club will also participate in the County Achievement Days today and Friday in Edwardsville. Foods and knitting will be displayed today, and clothing projects will be shown on Friday. Club members are to meet at the church at 12:45 each day for rides to Edwardsville.

The 4-H Club will attend the "Pearly Playhouse Party" radio show in St. Louis on July 22. They will meet at 9:45 a.m. at the church, and reservations must be made with Mrs. Bunselmeyer by July 17. She may be reached by calling 931-2838. The next regular club meeting will be Aug. 6 when all record sheets should be turned into the leader.

Recreation for the evening was led by Betty Brokaw and Nancy Bergfield. Becky Gibbs and Brenda Wadlow served refreshments of punch and ice cream bars to those mentioned and Patty Bado, Kim Hunt, Peggy Spaulch, Janice Hamilton, Donna Schilling, Ronnie Wadlow, Laura Hileman, Christy Lombardi, Cheryl Gertsch, Janet Bunselmeyer, Jo Ann Kamibich, Crystal Andrews, Elana Andrews, Sharon Serrin and Nancy Bergfield.

New Staff Members For 4-H Federation

Miss Virginia Stucker and Jim Shavels were introduced as new staff members of the Madison County 4-H Federation at a meeting last week in the Farm Bureau building at Edwardsville.

The annual speaking contest was held, with winners chosen in junior and senior girls and senior boys categories. Jerome Geiger and Bonnie Schoenleber will represent the county at the state fair in August. Mrs. Alma Eilers was judge.

A swimming party will be held July 28. Details will follow. A work day will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on July 18 at the Highland fairgrounds. It was announced.

A state exchange has been made with Kansas. Four persons from this area will visit Kansas and four from there will stay here for a few days this month. It is the first exchange to be attempted in Madison county, and more are anticipated.

In addition, a student qualifying for Distinguished Student honors must have been enrolled in a minimum of 12 hours during the summer sessions and have no grade lower than a "C".

Distinguished Student ranking is limited to 10% of A&M's undergraduate enrollment. McKemie, a junior management major, is the son of Col. and Mrs. Edward B. McKemie, Granite City.

College Students With SS Benefits Should File Form

For half a million young recipients of social security benefits the beginning of summer is a critical time, according to Ralph Brasher, Social Security district manager in East St. Louis. These are the students, between 18 and 22, who must notify the Social Security Administration of their intention to return to school in the fall if they want to keep payments coming over the summer months.

Ordinarily, benefits to children of disabled, deceased or retired workers stop at 18. But beneficiaries who continue their education in an accredited university, college, high school, or a vocational school approved or licensed by the state are eligible for monthly checks up to the age of 22.

For these students, benefit payments can continue during a vacation period of not more than four months if the student was a full-time student before the period started and intends to return to full-time attendance after the period ends. By completing the "Students Statement Regarding School Attendance" form, normally sent to student beneficiaries about a month before the end of the school year, the student can ensure the continuation of his benefit payments during his vacation.

"However, students who haven't received one of the forms, should contact their nearest social security district office," said Brasher. "If they fail to do so, their checks may be delayed."

Brasher also pointed out that a student's earnings from a job may affect his benefit payments. He can receive full benefit payments for all months of a year in which his earnings totaled $160 or less. Regardless of his earnings he can receive a benefit for any month in which he earns $140.

The local YMCA has adopted a new system of teaching swimming classes by scheduling 10 swim lessons over a two-week period. The system has proven to be successful, as attendance has been over 90% in the classes.

TIME FOR A CHANGE IN MADISON APPOINTEES

To the Editor:
I would like to answer Mrs. Mullen's letter in The Forum June 29, "Thanks Pro Tem Time to Explain to Faculty."

First of all, I would need to explain the entire matter of not signing my name because she lives in Madison and she will find out what will happen, such as filthy letters coming to her home, phone calls and doorbells ringing.

But she will find this out herself. This town does not forget your name.

What she said about Mr. Haynes having experience, I must agree with her on this point.

Mr. Haynes never talked as much in the past 26 years as he has in one council session in the last three months.

Why? They were all scared of Mayor Stephen Maeras. But not one of them will admit this.

As the papers have said before, they might as well have had cardboard dummies in the chairs when the late mayor, a truly great man, was still alive and conducting the council meetings.

Now John Haynes is expressing his views. I would say about 15 years too late.

Well, I'm glad to see people are attending council meetings all of a sudden. Could it be because one of their personal friends almost lost his job? It seems funny they never went to a council meeting before.

If they would have, they would have seen Mr. Kozielek run the city government very well. And the aldermen, when along with him then. This was before Mr. Saszk decided to run for mayor.

Mr. Kiser, the freshman alderman, seems to know everything there is to know about the city government. In less than a year, he knows everything.

We made a terrible mistake in this ward. We listened to Mr. Kiser's story when he wanted to be an alderman. Now that he is in, he has forgotten all about us.

He is 100% machine now. Well, I'm sorry now. I didn't vote for Mr. Bosworth. But you can bet I will get to vote again in this ward.

I will not argue about Mr. Haynes' or Mr. Kozielek's experience, but you can believe one thing, I will argue about Mr. Saszk's experience in city government because he has none.

Also, I read that the courts ordered the Granite City Police to pay the two women in the police department for the time they have worked in the department of 80 days at a time by Mr. Partney, mayor of Granite City.

But Mr. Kozielek has decided not to push this issue of his "non-reappointments."

Some of the breadwinners should have been taken off the city payroll years ago.

Our city corporation lawyer, Mr. John Gitchoff, has been in the state of Florida for months. Was he sent his paycheck every month? What a life!

Then somebody wonders why he didn't get reappointed? Is the head building inspector, Pete Skundrick, on duty? It seems like everyone is getting the station for a building inspector, the assistant inspector, Joe Kula, comes to check the property.

I could go on and on about these jobs. People have had them so long they get used to getting the check every month regardless of how much work they did. I am not sorry to say that a change should have taken place many years ago.

Concerning Mr. Dulko, I will not take the same stand. But he was told to stay out of politics, which he did not, instead taking up Mr. Saszk's side.

So he must now play the game of wait and see, or should I say, wait and hope.

I am sure the late Mayor Maeras had a lot of confidence in Acting Mayor Kozielek. He would not have appointed him mayor pro-tem.

As for him being an anchor, God bless a great man. He had all, and by all I mean every alderman, riding around his neck—not just one.

Kozielek may have ridden in on Mr. Maeras' coattail, but you very well know most of every body else.

Now that a great man is gone, it seems to me that everybody wants to act, though they know it all, and show it by speaking out now that he is gone.

Where were they for 27 years? I would like to close by saying, truthfully, everyone knows I am right, that neither Mr. Saszk nor Mr. Kozielek can ever replace Mr. Maeras.

So you tell it, my way, and I'll keep telling it my way.

MADISONIAN MANY YEARS

PUBLIC INCONSISTENT IN ALCOHOL ATTITUDE

To the Editor:
Jack Barron tells of his unhappy woman whose husband put gin in the pet cat's milk and enjoyed its staggering and intoxication. The cat was losing all its hair.

There was a public objection to such shameful conduct, but there was little objection to providing alcoholic beverages to our children.

Liquor is not fit, so they say, to give to their neighbors and to their children. "How crazy," says Barron, "can we get?"

We strive to rehabilitate alcoholics, but at the same time we provide for the making of more alcoholics by continuing the liquor traffic.

There are so many inconsistencies. The government seeks to reduce the number of smokers, but at the same time gives a subsidy to the tobacco growers.

We give attention to the recovery of alcoholics but few steps are taken to prevent the drinking wrought by the liquor traffic.

We believe the following statements are true:

1. The liquor business pays not one cent of taxes. It destroys good grain and fruit, and sells the poisoned product to the hooded and unscrupulous.

2. Besides paying no tax, the liquor business obtains financial support from the government in the form of the same police protection and control as is given other businesses.

3. Many saloons, not the churches, are the centers of the community.

4. We believe alcoholics, if possible, should be rehabilitated, but we understand according to statistics that only six to 10 of 100 can be cured.

5. Alcoholics should be reformed before they become alcoholics. That is, they should be accessible and therefore no alcoholics would be made.

6. Every person in order to accomplish his purpose should be a total abstainer. If you drink and never become really drunk, for example, you are making alcoholics of others, including even your son or daughter.

7. The drinking of alcoholic beverages by parents robs many children of food, clothing and decent shelter.

8. Prohibition leads to an end, not because it failed, but because it so wonderfully succeeded so tremendously that the brewers and distillers did everything possible to defeat it.

9. There is not a single way to make a drunkard sober. It fits us. It only causes us—drunkers and, indirectly, total abstainers, all of us.

10. The noblest saint may be the next to be slain on the highway.

It is time to stop and think.

GC WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION

GROUPS BANNED FROM SETTING WORK HOURS

To the Editor:
On behalf of the officers of Retail Store Employees Local 655, including the long-time head of the local, I would suggest that the long-time member who did not care to sign his or her name in the Forum July 2 also take some extra time and read the Preamble of the Retail Clerks' International Association, Section 3 (b).

It reads, "Where laws exist prohibiting Sunday work, they shall be rigidly enforced."

The state of Missouri has such an existing law whereas the state of Illinois has a law prohibiting any organization to force an employer when to open or close his operation of doing business.

I would further suggest that the unsigned writer start a campaign to his elected federal officials in the state of Illinois to enforce Sunday closing.

If the writer would have attended the union meetings in the past, he would have known that this local union in conjunction with the Associated Retailers spent time and money many years ago in Springfield, Ill., to have this law repealed.

In reading the letter on requesting a member, he would know all has to earn it to receive it. How many meetings has the long-time member attended?

In closing, may I wish him success on doing his life's battle between now and the year 1972.

River Festival So Outstanding That It Can Stimulate the Growth of This Area

The Mississippi River Festival is easily the greatest musical event ever to occur in this region. In addition, its cultural and entertainment impact is proving to be so immense that it could measurably stimulate residential and even commercial and industrial growth. Any area that can offer such "big-league" programs has to be rated as one in which people like to live, work, shop and play.

It will be recalled that the initial summer concert season in 1969, despite the use of a tent covering the stage and nearly 2000 of the up-to-12,000 spectators, was not as successful as expected by rain. It was an unusual summer and one unlikely to recur, as the second season in 1970 already is eloquently demonstrating. The crowds of the festival are following a slightly too hot opening night.

As the River Festival becomes better known, its visibility to prospective patrons is rising. The crowds of the first four events averaged close to 3000, never falling below 2000 and topping 4000 on the Fourth of July. This level of attendance is nearly double what had been recorded at a similar point a year ago. And the schedule of programs—symphonic, "pops," folk music, rock entertainers and popular vocalists and groups—indicates that the festival will be surpassed in the last half of July and first half of August.

The River Festival is a stunning success and we urge all who have not yet obtained tickets to do so promptly. Tickets are still available for most of the performances, but they are selling well and those who delay unduly may be disappointed.

Can't There Be Pure Air and a Gas Supply?

Every coin, it seems, has two sides. The basically commendable and necessary campaign to purify the air has just produced an unwanted side effect: With so many firms switching from coal to gas, the supply of natural gas available here and throughout the U. S. is becoming inadequate.

Until more adequate exploration and development can be carried out, it may develop, hampering industrial development in some parts of the nation. The Federal Power Commission would be well advised to alter its policy and encouraging expansion ventures by pipeline and well firms.

Japan's Industrial Steamroller Forcing Other Nations to 'Make Room'

By HERMAN KAHN, Director, The Hudson Institute
(Second of Three Articles)

Everyone in the West where you talk about this song, tends to be enormous and, in a way, it is taking an opposite thesis.

We are suggesting that there is a post-industrial society, saying, "Gee, only if you have a hundred years in the United States, this was basically an agricultural society."

Today, less than three per cent of the people produce more than ninety-five per cent of the food and fiber.

I can imagine somebody a hundred years ago, writing a book on the new agricultural society, saying, "Gee, only three per cent of the people produce ninety-five per cent of the food and fiber."

Today, when people look for a job, they no longer ask, "What's the salary?" but they ask, "What's the advancement?" the way they did fifty years ago, but want to know what you produce, what the neighborhood is like, and so forth.

To give you a sense of the change, you might look at the third-class literature. In fact, in general, if you want to know what a man is, a people really is like, third class literature is a very good indicator.

Time for U. S. House of Representatives To Tally Its Voting in Full Public View

In this era of accelerated communication and instantaneous statistical tabulation, it seems incredible that the U. S. House of Representatives still clings to a procedure under which many votes occur without a record of how the individual members vote.

Congressmen hold prestigious elective posts and their joint actions affect the course of events in many important areas of public life.

Legislation behind a cloak of secrecy denies to citizens information rightfully theirs. Even worse, it contributes to quixotic and arbitrary Congressional decisions; more than one representative has talked one way publicly and then anonymously voted the opposite way.

On the record votes probably ought to be cast on all matters and, at the very least, on all major issues. Equipment available today could make this possible without creating time-consuming delays.

Responsible representation and government accountability make it imperative that the House join the Senate in providing a public record of how legislators are voting.

Year-Round School Use an Inevitable Step In Assuring Both Quality and Adequate Funds

(Free Press, Diboll, Texas)

We are beginning to see signs from the legislature and from leading educators that point to an inevitable step in our public school systems—a 12-month school year.

Hearings are now being held on the subject, and there is a special legislative study committee. Probably nothing will result right away, but the 12-month school year is certainly a probability within the coming few years.

It is a probability because it would allow complete use of school facilities, give teachers a year's work and more money, and a number of other advantages. The disadvantages may be many but probably not as many as first feared. Parents may rebel the most because of losing the traditional summer family vacation.

What is now being talked is this: students would attend three quarters, each of 13-week duration, with a week's vacation at the end of each quarter. The same for teachers, giving everybody a month's rest over the three 13-week periods. Students and teachers could elect to attend the fourth quarter at their choosing.

This would throw different students out of school at various times, meaning family vacation would be in seasons other than summer.

It might also mean that work would be easier for students to find, since not all would be out of school at the same time.

The need for a 12-month school, say some, is brought on to better utilize buildings and other facilities.

Some communities everywhere are up to their hip pockets in property taxes. This, of course, includes school taxes.

The school buildings are unused one-fourth of every year. And the need for more buildings is switching from coal to gas, the supply of natural gas available here and throughout the U. S. is becoming inadequate.

One big problem will almost surely be the air-conditioning of buildings for year-round use. The need for a 12-month school, say some, is brought on to better utilize buildings and other facilities.

Points of Law for Summer Travel

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

You're planning a highway trip this summer? How about brushing up on your knowledge of the law and of express highway driving techniques?

Here are tips based on Illinois law, most of which make equally good sense when driving in other states, too:

1. Changing lanes. Always activate the appropriate turn signal to indicate your intention to move from one lane of traffic to another. Drive defensively and never change lanes unless you can do so safely—even if you have signalled.

2. Merging traffic. In Illinois, all drivers on merging roadways (or traffic lanes) are required to adjust speed and vehicle position to avoid collision.

For example, if you are driving in the outside lane of an express highway, you must look out for vehicles coming into your lane from access roads. You DON'T have the right-of-way.

3. Obey posted speed. This means posted minimum speeds as well as maximums. In the absence of posted minimums, you must drive fast enough so that you do not obstruct the normal flow of traffic.

If there is no posted maximum speed, the legal speed limit is 65 m.p.h. out on the highway and 30 m.p.h. in town.

4. Don't pick up hitchhikers. Many states prohibit hitchhiking and may penalize motorists who pick up hitchhikers. Illinois law states that motorists shall not pick up hitchhikers on a highway for the purpose of a ride.

5. Case of emergency. The customary sign of a traveler in distress is a raised hood. If you run out of gas, have a flat or engine trouble, pull to the right-hand shoulder of the road, off the travel lanes. Lift the hood and display a white handkerchief from the left front door.

Under Illinois law, a turn signal may not be flashed as the sign of a disabled vehicle, although dual flashing rear lights may be used.

Wait for a state trooper or highway service truck. Don't stop to flag down another traveler and don't walk or hitchhike, soliciting a ride from the driver of any private vehicle.

6. Keep auto registration card handy. In Illinois, you can keep your auto registration card in your billfold, purse or elsewhere. But many states require the registration card to be in the car at all times and you could be detained if unable to produce immediate proof of ownership.

7. No littering. Illinois provides a fine of from $5 to $50 for cluttering up the countryside with chewing gum or candy wrappers, beer cans or anything else that should be deposited in a trash can rather than on the road. Other states have even stiffer penalties.

8. Plan ahead. Look for signs that indicate you are approaching a rest area or a place where you can get something to eat or drink. If you miss it, don't back up and don't try to turn around. Both maneuvers are prohibited on express highways in Illinois and other states. You must go on to the next exit.

Healthy Environment Guarantee Proposed

The Illinois Constitutional Convention has accepted for consideration a proposal calling for the guarantee of a healthy environment. There is no such guarantee under the present charter.

The General Committee Report not only guarantees such a right, if adopted and eventually ratified, but gives the individual citizen the right of legal recourse against the state or municipality, and sets up a method of legislative implementation.

The report states that, "It generally expresses the Committee view that there is a vital need for a new Constitution to speak to the problem of environmental control."

And, under the expressed public policy of the report, "The duty of each citizen is to provide and maintain a healthful environment for the benefit of this and future generations."

The introduction of the proposal came at the end of a 10-hour day for the delegates, who had been considering the official Article as it relates to the size of the Supreme Court.

Ainad Temple Oriental Band Becoming Nationally Known

By DONNA HOGAN
The fame of the local Ainad Temple Oriental Band is spreading.

Command performances by the unit, seen here last month in the Shriners circus parade, are beginning to arrive at a rapid pace—especially since the colorful, scimitar-swinging drum major, Don Marshall, was honored with the first-place trophy as best drum major of the entire jamboree held in Peoria.

The competition attracted more than 700 Oriental band musicians for the annual Great Lakes Oriental Band Association contest, covering an area that includes Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Ontario, Canada.

Marshall, who resides in Fairview Heights, is a member of the Tri-City Shrine club and Ainad Temple. The award was welcomed with pride, since this was the first competition the band had entered since its formation in October 1967. The group has performed at many Shrine functions and parades in this area but had never entered competition with other Temple bands.

It was organized by the Tri-City Shrine club. The prime members of the band were Roy Wilmzig, potentate of Ainad Temple in 1967 and the first Granite City man to fill the office; Jack Dempsey, then outer guard of the Temple; and Warren Decatur, a member and past president of the Tri-City Shrine club.

They approached the club with the idea and were joined by Louis Marlette and Louis Spohr, both Granite City residents.

Accepted as Temple Unit, Avery Schermer made the plea from the floor at the November 1967 meeting of Ainad Temple that the Temple sponsor the band; and in December, the executive committee accepted the band as a unit of the Temple.

The original band started with eight members and has now grown to 34, along with two honorary members. The musicians practice every Tuesday night.

They first held the sessions at the Venice-Madison American Legion Post, but now gather at the Polish Hall, Madison, where acoustics are considered better.

The only requirement to become a band member is membership in the Tri-City Shrine club. A musical background is not necessary, as 75% of the members learned after joining the group. All music, of course, is Oriental.

Members of the band are Louis Marlette, Joseph Wallace, Delbert McKissick, Harold Carver, Avery Schermer, Lynn Kinney, Homer "Cal" Pendleton, Carl Roach, Bernard Boston, Joseph Sparks, Harold Coy, Charles Youngs.

Orville Hommet, Jim Berger, William Oliver, Sid Sternberg, Les Salem, Wilson Legate, William Mina, Robert Reed, William E. Simpson, Louis J. Spohr, Sidney Sternberg, George Charovich and Richard Staggs, all of Granite City.

Jack Bettag of Bethalto, Jack Stansberry, Wood River, Jack Grissom, East Alton, Don Farrington, Edwardsville, Paul Grob, Joseph Lucas and Richard Plumlee of Belleville, Harry Plumlee of Collinsville and Howard Hampton of Fairview Heights.

Honorary members are Warren Decatur and Robert Todoroff, both of Granite City.

Officers of Band
Avery Schermer was elected president of the group and Carl Roach was named secretary at the inception of the band in 1967, and they have served in that capacity since elected. Other current officers are Orville Hommet, vice-president; Jack Grissom, parade marshal; Jack Stansberry, historian; Joe Sparks, unit representative; and Don Farrington, publicity.

The colorful costumes worn by the members when performing are basic in design but the color schemes are left to the ingenuity of each individual. The first costumes were bought from a firm in South Carolina but the members now have a local seamstress who makes the costumes to order.

Last year, the band participated in the Cotton Carnival in Memphis, Tenn., and at the Milwaukee, Wis., Great Lakes parade, which attracted 16,000 Shriners, including 600 Shriners and their wives from Ainad Temple.

The band also took part in the 1969 Granite City Rotary Modern Living Show.

group performed in Rockford, Ill., this year at an all-state ceremonial and for the first time took part in the Moolah temple parade in St. Louis several weeks ago.

Troy, Valmeyer Next
One of the local area appearances was made Sunday, July 5, at the Gillespie, Ill., homecoming. Other local engagements in the planning stages are at the Troy homecoming on July 24-25.

A 1972 event anticipated by the group is the National North American and Canadian contests, planned for the fall of 1972 in Long Beach, Calif. All activities and housing will be aboard the liner Queen Mary, which will be there at the time.

The competition will take place in the auditorium on board the ship, with at least 100 bands participating. Since the Ainad Oriental Band is now affiliated with the Association of Shriners Oriental Bands, the local group officially was invited to attend.

Providing unique entertainment, with all Oriental music, the band appears at all Temple functions, parades, ceremonials and non-Temple functions that are approved by Ainad Temple.

There are 170 Temples in North America; 162 have Oriental bands.

City Hula Hoop Contest at Park; State Meet Here

Kaleidoscopic patterns formed by colorful hula hoops swirl around the Wilson Park pavilion as boys and girls take the first step in the third annual national hula hoop championships.

Competition began at 1:15 p.m. today in the local hoop twirling contest, sponsored by the Granite City park district. Youngsters competing for all-city honors and a chance at state and national titles represent 11 playground centers in the park district's summer recreation program.

Preliminary contests to determine the all-city entrants were conducted earlier this week at the individual playgrounds.

This year, the Granite City championships at the Wilson park district will host the state hula hoop contest. Last year, Helen Bjorkman, summer recreation supervisor, announced today.

All-city winners from numerous communities in Illinois will compete here, with the first-place state champions then vying in one of 13 regional contests.

Regional winners will receive an all-expense paid trip to the national finals, scheduled to be held at the Universal Film Studios in Hollywood, Calif., in late August.

More than 475 city parks, recreation departments and YMCA in all 50 states have indicated participation in the 1970 hula hoop contest. It is expected that over three-quarters of a million children, between the ages of five and 15 years, will take part.

YOUR Independent Insurance AGENT SERVES YOU FIRST
The most important question to ask before you buy insurance.

Ask the man, "How many insurance companies do you represent?" If he says just one, slow down. He doesn't have much choice to offer you.
Stands to reason you're better off if you buy home, car or business insurance from an agent who represents several companies, an INDEPENDENT agent. He has a choice.

Off-Duty GC Fireman Saves Woman in Water

A Granite City fireman, Ray Romine III, 2832 Wayne avenue, is credited with saving the life of a woman who stepped out of a boat, lost her balance and fell into deep water near Pene Marquette State Park at Grafton this week. She was not wearing a lifejacket and could not swim.

Romine and his father, Ray Romine Jr., were in the process of taking their boat away from the dock when the fireman noticed the woman having difficulty. He dove in from his boat and rescued her but failed to get her home. She did not require medical attention.

PATRIOTIC TIE DESIGN in red, white and blue complements a navy daron and cotton dress with pleated skirt made by Miss Alice Stewart, at left. Mrs. Juanita Crawford's red and tangerine polyester knit in a basic pattern style was the latter's first sewing project.

Clothing Students Model Their Apparel

A fashion show and tea has been given by members of the family living and clothing classes at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

Students enrolled in other programs at the adult vocational training center and friends of the participating students viewed the style show.

Garments made by class members for themselves or their families during the past month were presented in the hour-long program, which was directed by Mrs. David Painter of Granite City, who served as substitute instructor for the four-week period.

Among the models were Mrs. Johnnie Hockerson, who chose navy polyester for her dress; trimmed with red, white and blue braid, and her daughter, Kim, who modeled two of the four outfits made by her mother during the instruction program — a purple A-line dress, detailed with lace, and a maroon knit with embroidered flowers in variegated rose shades at the neck and hemline.

A scooter skirt, popular for casual wear, was made and modeled by Miss Mable Newby, who accented a coco twill cotton skirt with brass buttons and wore a cotton print blouse with pointed collar which she also designed.

Black, Gold Theme

Mrs. Annie Watts modeled a pink polyester knit dress with top stitching in a V at the neck, accented with a black button, and a gold knit dress with a yolk front and back and small tabs at the waistline set with gold buttons.

Mrs. Watts' daughter, Twana, three, wore an outfit designed and made by her mother, featuring a white knit gathered skirt and vest and a lavender dotted swiss blouse, trimmed in lace at the collar and cuffs.

Mrs. Lillian Mang selected a white flowered pique for a dress with a back bodice seam running into the front dart, which gave the skirt a slightly flared look.

Miss Alice Stewart used red, white and blue in a patriotic design to compliment a V-neck collared dress with pleated skirt in navy daron and cotton.

First Sewing Attempt

Polyester knit fabric was chosen for dresses by Mrs. Dorothy Carney, in a light blue shade, and Mrs. Juanita Crawford, in red and tangerine; Mrs. Crawford made the dresses as her first sewing project.

Mrs. Evelyn Washum created a special dress for the July Fourth weekend in a red, white and blue fabric with a mandarin collar and paneled front, and Miss Kistie Baker modeled a summer dress with a high round neckline and decorative front slit skirt.

Misses Janet and Mary Davinroy were attired in a flowered

TEENAGE SEAMSTRESSES. Mary and Janet Davinroy, daughters of Venice School Board President and Mrs. Leo A. Davinroy, modeled a flared dotted swiss dress and a flowered pants dress, showing what the younger set can accomplish with basic sewing skills.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER DUO. Mrs. Annie Watts designed and made a gathered skirt and vest in white knit with a lavender dotted swiss blouse for her three-year-old daughter, Twana, and a pink knit polyester dress for herself in the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center's sewing classes.
